TORCH RUN LEADS TO BUMPER SALES

by Catherine Dalton

THOUSANDS of people lined the streets to welcome the Olympic Torch through Staffordshire. Delighted traders said crowds helped them to record takings.

Around 25,000 people are estimated to have lined the streets of Lichfield city, with a further 3,000 watching in Streethay and Hopwas.

Thousands more descended on Great Wyrley and Newtown in Essington, where boyband The Wanted appeared as special celebrity torchbearers.

The Olympic Flame started its journey through the country with a visit to the National Memorial Arboretum, travelling through Streethay before heading into Lichfield, Hopwas and on to Tamworth.

Customers queued out of the door at The Village newsagents and convenience store in Walsall Road, Great Wyrley.

Supplies

Supervisor Abbey Griffiths said: "We were really busy and there were queues all down the aisles and out the doors."

"As soon as the Torch had passed by we got even busier because people had been waiting for it for so long and were hungry and thirsty. We'd stocked up on extra supplies."

At Masons Bar and Restaurant in Stafford Road, Newtown, bosses said takings had doubled.

Owner Jane Kelly said: "We were really busy and it was a brilliant day, everyone seemed to have a good time."

Meli Nicolaou, owner of Coco Meli bakery stall in Lichfield, said business was up around 50 per cent.

Festivities in town to honour carriers

TORCHBEARERS from Rugeley are being invited to share their celebrations with the town's residents this weekend.

In all, seven people from the town were given the honour of carrying the Olympic Flame last Saturday.

Ben Kenyon, Gerald Willisroft, Simon Maxfield, Ian Smith, James Whitford, Claire Simcock and Beth Archer all ran some part of the way between Lichfield and Birmingham.

Rugeley town traders are looking to capitalise on their success by inviting them to the town centre on Saturday. A torch will be on display on Saturday in Brook Square.

Traders' Association chairman Angi Cooney said she hoped as many people from the town would turn up for the torchbearers' homecoming.

Inspirational

"Unfortunately the flame didn't pass through Rugeley so we hope people come out to honour them as they are all inspirational people," she said.

The festivities begin at 12.30pm and will culminate in the drawing of the town's growing monthly Lotto.

The scheme is going from strength to strength and is regularly worth around £700 to the winner. The cashpot is split between the lucky ticketholder and the traders' association, which uses its share for the benefit of the town.

Concern is raised over dog training

CONCERNS have been raised over noise emanating from a former care home in Burntwood which has been used by police to train dogs.

Councillor Steve Norman has raised the issue with the county council about the use of the former Greenwood House Care Home, on Lichfield Road.

He said he had previously been assured that the exercises would stop after objections were first raised in April. He is now keen to hear whether residents still had concerns over dogs being trained at the site.

Barking

"I wrote to the county council in April following complaints from neighbours of Greenwood House about the noise and disturbance allegedly caused by the police dogs barking which upset their own pet dogs," he said.

"Staffordshire County Council told me they had allowed the use of the building, which has been empty now for over four years, to be used for dog training exercises but that this had now finished."

"However, on Sunday I saw two police vans there and have written again to the county council to get some clarification."

Councillor Norman said he had been told the matter was being investigated.

Parking fear at burial site

FEARS have been raised over a lack of parking at a new multi-million pound cemetery near Burntwood.

The £1.4m Walsall Burial Park is close to opening between Burntwood and Brownhills.

There are just 20 official parking spots and Councillor Paul Atkins said there may not be enough to accommodate large parties.

Bosses insist there is ample parking and said cars could park informally around the site.

Welcome to Chase Matters

Welcome to the new-style Chase Matters, Cannock Chase Council's newsletter for residents. Instead of the usual magazine, for the two editions this year we'll be giving you the latest news and information in this 'wraparound' format with your Chronicle newspaper. We hope you like it.

Why has Chase Matters changed?

Last year we asked you what you thought of our communications in a consultation throughout the summer: 90% of people who took part told us that they find Chase Matters useful as a source of news and information. Taking this on board we still wanted to produce Chase Matters but, in the current economic climate, in a more cost-effective format. This new format still delivers Council news and information to you - but at a much reduced cost.

We took on board what you said last year. You said that you like to get information from your local papers - we've sent out over 150 press releases in the last 12 months to get information to you this way. We want to provide information to you in the format you prefer. That's why we're also distributing Chase Matters electronically as well - sign up to receive these by mailing communications@cannockchasedc.gov.uk

We want to constantly improve our communications. In July and August we'll be asking you for your views again in our annual communications survey. Look out for us at summer events across Cannock Chase or give us your views at www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk

You can always email us at communications@cannockchasedc.gov.uk or write to Communications, Cannock Chase Council, Civic Centre, Beecroft Road, Cannock WS11 1BG. Alternatively, you can always get in touch through our facebook page (search for 'Cannock Chase Life') or twitter (we're @CannockChaseDC).

Get into the Olympic spirit!

We're making sure the spirit of the Olympic and Paralympic Games is alive and kicking in Cannock Chase during the amazing summer of sport and celebration.

The Chase Community Games celebrate the spirit of the Olympics and Paralympics and showcase the best of what Cannock Chase has to offer. Lots of events have already been taking place since the launch in March - and there are even more to come. Download an events calendar at www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk/chasegames

On 5th July, hundreds of schoolchildren from across Cannock Chase took part in a Walk 2 Win challenge along the Chase Heritage Trail. The children have also been creating a piece of artwork to add to the Community Games Torch which will be showcased around the District. Keep a look-out for it! There's a funfair in Cannock Park between 12th and 15th July, a community fun day in Ravenhill Park on 14th July, It's A Knockout in Hednesford Park on 4th August and many more.

The big Chase Community Games finale event is the Party In The Park in Cannock Park on Sunday 19th August. There'll be live music from local bands, It's A Knockout competitions, a Dance Fest and loads of art and sport activities. The fun starts at 11am until 7pm, so come along and get into the Olympic spirit!

Flame burns bright for Games celebration

Cannock Chase has the great honour of hosting a Paralympic Flame celebration in the build-up to the Paralympic Games. We're getting ready for a big party - and you're invited!

Our Party In The Pool celebration event takes place at Chase Leisure Centre in Cannock on Saturday 25th August. As well as sessions in the leisure centre's brand new pool, the day will be jam-packed with sporting fun. Clubs from across Cannock Chase will be taking part to show what they can offer. The District's Paralympic Torch will be on display and there will also be an appearance from Olympian David Moorcroft.

A future Paralympian from Cannock Chase will be playing a special part in the celebrations. Earlier this month a special panel chose Olivia Wilson to be Cannock Chase's Paralympic Flame ambassador. We had lots of nominations and we're pleased to say that everyone who was nominated will have a chance to play a special part in the celebrations. Olivia, a horse rider with big Paralympic ambitions herself, will play an extra special role by travelling down to London on Friday 24th August for a major Flame Lighting event. We're delighted that Olivia will be performing this honour for us.

We're incredibly proud to be playing a part in the Paralympic Flame celebration. We hope you can join us on Saturday 25th August to celebrate all that is great about the Paralympic Games - and Cannock Chase.

Meet Olivia, Cannock Chase's Paralympic Flame ambassador, on the back page!

Firm's tribute to Paralympic founder

Rupert Soames unveils the bust

A CANNOCK firm has funded a cast-bronze tribute to Professor Sir Ludwig "Poppa" Guttman, the founder of the modern Paralympic Games.

The life-size bust was presented to Sir Philip Craven MBE, president of the International Paralympic Committee.

It was funded by Cannock-based Aggreko, the official temporary energy services provider to the London 2012 Olympic and Para-lympic Games and was donated to the IPC in recognition of Professor Guttman's commitment to the promotion of sport as an effective rehabilitation method for those with spinal cord injuries.

The bust will be loaned by the IPC to all future Paralympic Games host nations as a symbol of remembrance to Professor Guttman's achievements. Rupert Soames, CEO of Aggreko, presented the bust at the National Spinal Injuries Centre at Stoke Mandeville, where Professor Guttman held the first international Paralympic sports event on the opening day of the 1948 London Olympic Games.

Mr Soames said: "The work of the Poppa Guttman Trust to commemorate such an important part of our nation's sporting heritage is to be commended, and we are very proud that we have been able to assist."

Drivers to hold talks over drugs test plan

TAXI drivers across Cannock will hold meetings to discuss controversial changes that will see them drugs-tested and banned from wearing hats.

The Taxi Association for Cannock Chase has organised a string of meetings so drivers can have their say.

Association chairman Steven Toy said 10 forums had been organised in the district.

The 43-year-old of Fernwood Drive, Rugeley, said drivers' views would be collected before an all-important meeting with council bosses.

"I am organising smaller meetings because there are so many issues to thrash out," Mr Toy said.

Under the plans, Cannock Chase Council will screen drivers for drink and drugs - and make them pay for the tests themselves.

The local authority will also ask cabbies to let them know each time a Hackney carriage is being used for "private leisure purposes".

Damage
Hats will be banned except for religious reasons. The council said it wanted to improve safety in the district and improve the service for passengers.

But Will Rotchell, who runs Corky's Cars, based in Cannock, said some of the changes could damage trade.

The 42-year-old said his firm was seeking legal advice over the proposals.

Terry Airey, 54, who runs Terry's Taxis in Hednesford, said he supported the drugs testing but branded the hats ban as silly.

A consultation has been launched and will close on August 31.

Deputy council leader Councillor Janos Toth said: "We license the trade to make sure that residents get a safe service, so the views of taxi users are just as important."

Gallery of Olympic pictures

Great Wyrley Art Club chairman Peter Dibble with some of the artwork

ORGANISERS were wowed when more than 300 schoolchildren in Great Wyrley entered an art competition.

The first-time event was inspired by the double celebration of the Queen's Golden Jubilee and London Olympics.

Great Wyrley Art Club, which set up the competition, was impressed by the number of children who entered from the Performing Arts High School and St Thomas More, Moat Hall and Landwood primaries.

Club chairman Peter Dibble said: "Work was of such a high standard it was difficult for the art club members and committee to select the winners."

Winners' entries will be mounted, framed and put on display at Artworx, Avon Road, Cannock for seven days from July 9.

Entrants sought for Open Art show

A CHASE tourist attraction is showcasing the district's talent in an Open Art exhibition.

The bi-annual event is being held at the Museum of Cannock Chase in conjunction with Community Well-being Arts.

To celebrate Olympic year, this year's theme is 'Going for Gold'.

Annette French, museum service manager, said: "There's loads of ways to get involved whether you're a professional artist or just feel inspired to try something new. Entries can be in the form of paintings, drawings, photographs, needlework, crafts, ceramics or sculpture."

Details

Applicants must either live or work in Cannock Chase district and be able to demonstrate how their work relates to this year's theme.

Entry forms and details of the competition criteria are available for final submission on October 12 and 15.

Successful entries will be on display at the Valley Road museum in Hednesford for the Open Art Exhibition, which runs from October 22 to December 19.

Wasteland homes bid

A NEW housing development is being planned in Rugeley.

Wolverhampton-based Bromford Group is behind the plans for 10 new houses and two flats on a spot of wasteland off Sheep Fair. Some of the development will also be built on the car park of The Vine Inn.

The three three-bedroom houses, seven two-bedroom houses and two flats will be two-storied high with garages and parking spaces for 20 cars.

The land is currently either overgrown or hard-surfaced.

Walk fundraiser

A CHARITY walk in Cannock has raised more than £1,000. Around 75 people took part in the annual Walk to D'Feet event. It was staged at Cannock Chase Visitors Centre on June 23 and organised by the Staffordshire Motor Neurone Disease Support Group.

Investing in Cannock Chase

Hednesford transformation hotting up

Anyone who shops in Hednesford town centre or who runs a business there will be very well aware of the major changes that have been taking place over the last 12 months.

Thanks for your patience and understanding while the £50 million transformation being delivered by St Modwen has been progressing. You'll be pleased to know that work is very much on schedule to get everything finished by the end of this year.

The regeneration project has been transforming Hednesford town centre with the creation of two new sites - Chase Gateway and Victoria Shopping Park - which are both linked by Market Street.

The newly realigned Victoria Street opened in May, while seven new retail units at the Chase Gateway side of the regeneration in Market Street were due to be completed in early June. This will make way for the construction of Victoria Shopping Park, which includes an 80,000 sq ft Tesco store, 640 car park spaces, a terrace of non-food retail units and a retail kiosk, all served by new bus stops.

The retail scheme is the final stage in the regeneration project which has already delivered four retail units facing Rugeley Road at Chase Gateway, a new Reserve Forces and Cadets Association (RSFCA) building and a new home for Hednesford Bingo Club. A 10,000 sq ft community facility to replace the former Aquarius ballroom will be completed later this year.

As well as creating a vibrant, redesigned town centre, the transformation will create around 600 jobs when completed.

Discussions have got under way with Tesco on recruitment for its store in Hednesford, which will be opening in December 2012. Around 300 jobs will be created at the store.

As part of the recruitment process for the Hednesford Tesco store, between 80 and 100 of the jobs will be set aside for people in Cannock Chase who have been long-term unemployed. We'll be working with Tesco and JobCentre Plus to make this happen.

Work under way on Rugeley Tesco store

Work has started on the site in Rugeley that will house a new Tesco store. Ecological work is currently being carried out to make sure there are no protected species.

Site clearance and demolition will be carried out between September and November, with building work scheduled to begin in February 2013. The new Tesco store has a target opening date for September 2013 and is expected to create around 250 jobs.

All systems go for Mill Green employment park

The Stoke-on-Trent and Staffordshire Local Enterprise Partnership (LEP) has given £1.78 million of Growing Places funding for Mill Green, matching the funding for the project recently secured from the Greater Birmingham and Solihull LEP.

The creation of a high quality employment site in the District that could eventually create almost 2,000 jobs will now get under way after we secured £3.5 million of funding.

The total funding of £3.56 million will now enable extensive infrastructure and servicing works to take place. These works will initially create 18.8 acres of serviced development land and create 68 construction jobs.

The wider project will deliver 19,500 square metres of employment floorspace, as well as a hotel and restaurant. It is anticipated that this will generate around 1,200 full-time jobs and 650 construction positions, as well as leveraging about £34 million of private investment into Cannock Chase District.

Estate will be fit for a Monarch!

We've been working with Waterloo Housing Association and housebuilder Lovell to breathe new life into the Elizabeth Road estate in Cannock.

The estate has been undergoing a £17 million transformation, with 150 high-quality new homes eventually for rent and sale.

The first new homes on the estate - named to celebrate the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II - were completed in time for the Monarch's Diamond Jubilee this year, and the first batch of new homes are called, appropriately, Monarch Park.

Originally built in 1952 and named in honour of Queen Elizabeth's coronation, it is fitting that the redevelopment of the estate is taking place during the year of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee.

Back in 1952, 100 homes were built by the National Coal Board to serve the nearby colliery. The houses were built of concrete (Vates design), which was very common in the 1950s, but unfortunately by the 1990s they had started to become structurally unsound.

People have already started to move in to the first completed properties and plenty more will be finished over the summer. They comprise houses available to buy through shared ownership and for rent to local people. A selection of houses for outright sale will quickly follow, with the whole mixed-tenure development due to be finished by Spring of 2013.

After the economic downturn, the project was successfully taken forward by the partnership between ourselves, Waterloo and Lovell, with support from the Homes and Communities Agency. It has been a long but very worthwhile journey to get the Elizabeth Road estate to this brink of a very bright and promising new era.

Opportunities to buy a home through shared ownership will start from just £30,000 for a 25% share. A marketing suite opened at Monarch Park on 24th March for customers to find out more about the 37 homes for shared ownership with Waterloo and the 50 homes to be sold by Lovell.

The new homes are replacing the estate's old defective concrete homes. The last of these were knocked down in the final phase of demolition work. The redevelopment will also provide attractive public open spaces, a children's play area and a newly laid road through the estate.

For more information about Monarch Park and the wider Elizabeth Road regeneration visit www.monarchparkcannock.co.uk, including details of the first homes that are now for sale and rent.

Did you know?
We'll be building the first new council houses for 25 years in our major regeneration of the Moss Road estate in Chadsmoor.

Queen of carnival is named

Queen Abbi Edwards

TEN-year-old Abbi Edwards will be crowned Carnival Queen at this year's annual event in Cannock.

The carnival, on Saturday, July 14, will feature bands from Westhill Primary School and the Drum Corps, an array of market stalls, children's shows, face painting and pony rides. A number of charities will be holding fundraising stalls.

A procession of floats will leave Cannock Park at 1.45pm with the crowning of the Carnival Queen taking place at 2pm at the bandstand next to the bowling green.

Abi, of St Mary's Primary School, will be joined by her attendants, St Luke's Primary School children Robert Foley, aged 11 and 10-year-old Rosalyn Baker.

Organiser Sheila Dunning said she was hoping for good weather to attract a bigger crowd.

Forklift firm on shortlist

A LEADING forklift truck supplier in Cannock is in line for a prestigious industry award for its innovative approach to training.

Briggs Equipment's driver challenge programme and its apprenticeship scheme have both been nominated for the training trophy at the UK Warehousing Association's Awards 2012. They were taking place at the Dorchester Hotel yesterday (Wednesday).

Briggs, which employs 300 people. Chief executive Richard Close said: "We are delighted to be recognised."

Walk for charity

MORE than 100 friends and family members turned out for a charity trek arranged by a Cannock company. Ide Systems organised the six-mile trek over the Sherbrook Valley area of Cannock Chase on June 23. A barbecue and raffle followed and £2,400 was raised for Cancer Research UK.

Newtown resident and Essington councillor David Cliff said the day had been a real boost for the villages.

Idols

Popstars The Wanted helped add to the excitement, chatting with fans as took up their place in the Torch relay on the A34. Their arrival was announced just the day before and hundreds of fans, sporting Wanted T-shirts and posters, braved the heavy rain to await their idols.

Fan Rebecca Pedley, aged 12, watched the band carry the Torch with her mother housewife Kim Pedley, aged 42.

The Great Wyrley Performing Arts High School pupil

even managed to get her picture taken with one of the band. "It was brilliant, I didn't think I would get to see them up close," said Rebecca, of Lingfield Drive, Great Wyrley.

Friends Megan Bennett, aged 13, Holly Ann Hough, Megan Loundes and Danielle Porter, all 14 from Blaxwich, also turned out hours in advance to see the popstars.

"I got to meet them and it was a brilliant experience," said Holly.

For those lucky enough to carry the Olympic Flame, it was an experience they will never forget.

Lichfield Torchbearer John May, who carried the Flame along Tamworth Street, Conduit Street and Dam Street, said: "I was so proud to carry the Torch through my local streets and overwhelmed with the response from the crowd."

Preserving our wildlife heritage

We're lucky in Cannock Chase to have some of the country's most beautiful countryside right on our doorstep - and we play a major part in making sure that it's here for generations to come.

We manage more than 1,000 hectares of parks and nature reserves across the District. That's the size of about 1,600 full-size football pitches. One of our sites - Hednesford Hills - has been given protected status as a Site of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI), reflecting the importance of this internationally important heathland site.

Around 80% of the world's heathlands occur in the UK and in Shropshire we have lost over 93% in the last 100 years or so. We've been increasing the grazed areas of Hednesford Hills to further improve the quality of the site for wildlife over the next decade. At this extra grazing has meant that we needed to increase the size of our herd of Dexter cows. Last year saw the arrival of five new Dexter cattle, taking our herd size up to 12.

These cattle are currently grazing rush pastures at Hawks Green Valley nature reserve. Five other cows are currently grazing Hednesford Hills and two are at Hazelside local nature reserve. Our cows even had a taste of the limelight when they appeared on Live with Gabby on Channel 5!

We've been awarded £250,000 over the next 10 years from Natural England to help preserve some of our rarest habitats.

The funding means we can do even more to protect the species-rich hay meadows of Mill Green and Hawks Green and to help manage the heathland habitat of Hednesford Hills and the acid grasslands of Hazelside through grazing with our herd of Dexter cattle.

Over 97% of wildflower meadows have been lost in the UK. We are lucky in Cannock Chase to have fine examples of this habitat at Hawks Green nature reserve, Mill Green nature reserve and in the valley of Hednesford Hills. Other habitats included in the funding package include Coppice Colliery, which is being managed for its wading birds like the snipe. Skylarks and lapwing can also be seen here. The reed beds at Mill Green are also included due to their importance for birds like teal.

See www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk for lots more information about our local nature reserves.

Did you know?

We have a volunteer conservation group which meets every Friday at Deewall's Farm in Cannock. No experience is required. Call our Countryside Service team on 01543 450016.

Have you taken the brown bin challenge?

You should have received your new waste and recycling calendar last month and we hope that it's taken pride of place on the front of the fridge!

As well as details of when to put your bins out, the calendars also contain a recycling challenge for you.

We want everyone in the district to boost Cannock Chase's recycling record even further by increasing the amount of food waste we recycle. You may not be aware that food waste can be put into the brown recycling bin along with the garden waste.

Since 2005, when we launched our garden waste collection service, just under one million wheelie bins' worth of garden and food waste has been recycled. We want to do even better and increase the District's recycling rate from an already impressive 54% in 2011/12.

The brown bin garden and food waste that is collected across Cannock Chase is turned into peat-free compost, which is bagged and sold or mixed with other materials for commercial use. The more we can put into our brown bins, the more we can reduce our green bin waste which goes to landfill (and we have to pay a tax on every tonne of waste that we send). Recycling more means we deliver a more cost-effective service and do even more to protect the environment.

The new calendars are also available online at www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk

Working together for a safer District

We work with lots of different agencies in Cannock Chase to tackle crime through a group called the Chase Community Safety Partnership.

The group works every day to make sure that Cannock Chase is a safe place to work, visit and do business - and its work has a direct impact on people's lives.

The group received an award from Staffordshire Police Authority for its response to a hate crime incident in the District. Because of a fatal disfigurement Mr Cooper became a repeat victim of hate crime. Mr Cooper has worked closely with the partnership to overcome his daily issues.

A multi-agency approach was applied to solving Mr Cooper's concerns including the delivery of hate crime sessions with local schools across the District. Mr Cooper worked alongside partners to deliver these sessions which highlighted his personal experiences of bullying. As a result, the number of complaints and incidents has reduced significantly. Mr Cooper said: "The intervention from Chase Community Safety Partnership has made such a difference to my life. I feel stronger and am extremely grateful for all their help and support."

"Due to the success of the work I have been involved in, I have now got the confidence and enthusiasm to expand this further. I really want to help those that are going through what I did and educate people about those living with a disability. I hope this will improve people's lives, like it has mine."

THE BEST OF PETER
RHODES

OUR changing language. It is reported that one Olympic hopeful, despite much pre-Games practice, has "failed to medal".

□□□□□□□□

THE Archbishop of Canterbury declares that David Cameron's idea of a Big Society is viewed by many as "aspirational waffle". That's the Church of England for you. It still can't make up its mind about homosexuality but knows instinctively that Tory social policy is bad.

□□□□□□□□

TALKING of waffle, that great ducker, diver and perennial waffler Tony Blair pops up in a BBC interview to remind us he's still around, ambitious and looking for a job, possibly as President of Europe. Pressed on the matter of his open-door immigration policy, the great man declares: "In some ways, I don't regret it." Which presumably means that "in some ways" he does and, as always, wants to be all things to all people. Blair wants to claim that mass immigration has done great things for Britain. Yet at the same time he wants to empathise with those working-class Brits whose jobs have been taken by new arrivals from the eastern EU. I wonder whether, nearly 10 years after launching the invasion of Iraq on the basis of a monstrous untruth, Tony Blair "in some ways" regrets starting the war. The prospect of him as the supreme head of the EU (with Alastair Campbell as his enforcer, peut-être?) is one that "in some ways" makes me reach for the sick bag.

□□□□□□□□

THE road signs have appeared at the end of our road. The Olympic flame is due to arrive any day now and we are warned that if we leave our cars parked on the route, they will be towed away and impounded, in the great Olympian spirit. Quite what we are expected to do with the flame is not explained. I suppose we just turn up and sort of adore it. A neighbour is muttering darkly about taking a bucket of water.

□□□□□□□□

THE Duchess of Cambridge, or Princess Kate as we really should start calling her, has been told she should curtsy to the Princesses Beatrice and Eugenie because they (being the daughters of Prince Andrew) are of the blood royal while Kate is a commoner. Just when the monarchy is going through a really popular phase, along comes something to remind us what a strange, cold, creepy and incredibly out-of-touch institution it can be.

□□□□□□□□

BY DEMONISING the under-25s on housing benefit, David Cameron is trying to create a state-benefit system which aims to separate the deserving poor from the undeserving poor. The Victorians spent most of the 19th century trying to do the same and it never worked. But family benefits are a valid target. There is no earthly reason why the state should subsidise people to produce more than three children. We live on a crowded island. Most people have small families and see no reason why their taxes should subsidise those who, for reasons of culture, religion or pure carelessness, produce baby after baby.

School staff looking pretty in pink

THE rain failed to dampen the spirits of four members of staff from a Burntwood school as they took part in a fundraising walk.

Sara Aish, Emma Foden, Helen Fergus and Lisa Dwyer, who all work at Highfields Primary, were pretty in pink as they joined in hundreds of other fundraisers for the Solstice Walk in aid of St Giles Hospice.

The quartet completed the nine-mile walk in three hours and 11 minutes and have so far raised more than £330. They are now expected to make it an annual event. More than 700 ladies in total stepped out for the night-time stroll along Lichfield city centre, generating an estimated £70,000 for St Giles.

More than £500,000 has been raised since the Solstice Walk's inception in 2007.

Head of fundraising Helen Relihan said: "The atmosphere was incredible - it was humbling to see so many of our supporters taking part, and all with big smiles on their faces."

Charity's chairman tells of a busy year

THE chairman of South Staffordshire Cruse Bereavement has told of the charity's busy year.

Sue Williams was speaking at the charity's Annual Business Meeting in front of representatives from local councils, sponsors, community groups and volunteers past, present.

She said the group had extended its service, increased its number of volunteers and given one-to-one support through its helpline.

"The organisation goes from strength to strength and continues to strive to bring colour back into the lives of the bereaved," she said.

Chief executive Debbie Kerslake also told the meeting, at the Coton Centre in Tamworth, of the charity's supportive involvement in the Olympic Games, as well as its ongoing work with the military and improvements to its website.

Anyone needing bereavement support, or is interested in becoming a support volunteer or admin support worker can call 01543 433 479, email southstaffordshire@cruse.org.uk or visit www.cruse.org.uk

Where there's a Will there's also a Plan B

THOUSANDS of music fans flocked to this year's open-air concerts.

Plan B and Will Young were this year's star performers, with the former kicking off proceedings on Friday night.

Dressed in his trademark grey suit and black tie, Plan B - real name Benjamin Balance-Drew - rocked the Birches Valley venue.

The rain held off for the first of the two Forestry Commission gigs.

Plan B greeted the crowds with Writing's on the Wall and played every top hit from his critically-acclaimed album The Defamation of Strickland Banks.

He threw in his own version of Paolo Nutini's Coming Up Easy before welcoming the DJ Faith SFX who got the crowds rocking.

Lapped

There was then a complete change in tempo and costume, starting with Stand By Me, followed by tracks from his new Album III. Manors album. The crowd lapped up very second of his one-and-a-half hour set. Support came from Ny, followed by Kwabs.

Jennifer Symmonds, aged 57, from Cannock, said: "There is a big group of us that go every year and we loved it."

Matt Lowe, 33, from Lichfield added: "Plan B was amazing, and was even better than I expected."

Mike Taylor, concert manager for the Forestry Commission who came up with the idea for the first gig in 1997, said: "It has really evolved over the years and we get quite a diverse range in ages and people coming along."

Rain failed to dampen the spirits as Pop Idol winner Young took to the stage the following night.

did not disappoint, belting out hits such as Changes, Light My Fire and Jealousy. Organisers said the rain had not spoiled the event and said around 5,250 people attended the sell-out concert.

He had been supported by singer/songwriter Nerina Pallot.

Andy Coggins, visitor services manager for the Forestry Commission, said: "It has been another sell-out event which is great to see."

"The purpose of these gigs are to show people of all ages that we are here and they can come and visit us 365 days a year in the beautiful surroundings."

Young shot to fame in 2002 after winning the TV talent show - a precursor to X Factor - and recently released his third UK number one album Echoes.

Previous summer concerts on the Chase have included performances by Simply Red, Keane and Paul Weller, the Sugababes and Jools Holland. Last year's performances featured Erasure and Sophie Ellis-Bextor and Simple Minds.

NO JOB TOO SMALL

Meet Olivia our Paralympic Flame ambassador!

Fourteen-year-old Olivia Wilson from Cannock has been chosen to be Cannock Chase's Paralympic Flame ambassador for the celebrations at Chase Leisure Centre on 25th August.

Olivia, who is blind, has been tipped as a future Paralympian and is firmly set on competing in the 2016 Games in Rio, Brazil.

On Friday 24th August Olivia will be travelling down to London for the national Paralympic Flame Lighting event as the ambassador for Cannock Chase. She will bring a Paralympic lantern back to Cannock Chase for our Paralympic Flame Celebration at Chase Leisure Centre on Saturday 25th August.

The Cannock Chase High School student took up horse-riding when she was 10 and, two years ago, won the 'totally visually impaired' section of the RDA (Riding for the Disabled Association) national championships, her very first competition. She even met the Princess Royal at that event!

Olivia's mum Sue said: "Whatever she's wanted to do, she's done it. She's had swimming lessons with her friends, she's done trampolining, dancing and played football. She's amazing and absolutely nothing will hold her back."

Olivia was nominated by Doug Smith, a regional instructor for the RDA. He said: "There is no doubt in my mind that Olivia has the potential to be a future Paralympian. She is such a determined and pleasant young lady who has great support from her family. Olivia is brave, determined and dedicated yet retains a wonderful disposition. I can't think of anyone who is more deserving of representing Cannock Chase."

And how does Olivia feel about being Cannock Chase's Paralympic Flame ambassador?

"She's absolutely delighted", said mum Sue. "I don't think she can quite believe it. It's a wonderful honour for Olivia and hopefully she'll be competing in the next Paralympic Games."

All change at Chase Leisure Centre

Have you been to Chase Leisure Centre recently?

If you have, you'll know all about the transformation that's been taking place over the last 12 months. If you haven't been for a while, you really should pop in and have a look - you won't recognise it!

The leisure centre in Cannock has been undergoing a major transformation over the last few months to deliver modern, top-class facilities for you.

A brand new fitness suite - with the equipment funded through our new partnership with WLCT - was opened earlier this year. It's a much bigger suite than the old gym, and it's been moved up to the first floor to take advantage of lovely views over the golf course.

The new health and fitness equipment caters for all customers, from those new to exercising to the more accomplished user. With views over the golf course and park, the new state-of-the-art Technogym Wellness equipment includes iPod docking stations and integrated TV screens along with Powerplates, core and stability equipment and free weights.

Stephen Whitehouse from Hednesford has been using Chase Leisure Centre since the mid-1980s, so he's well placed to comment on the changes. The 48-year-old part-time martial arts instructor said:

"The new gym is just fantastic, it's got every bit of equipment that you need in a top-quality gym. The old gym was in the basement and used to get a bit stuffy. This one is so much bigger and is air conditioned. I can't believe the difference. I come six days a week and I love it."

As well as the new Profiles Health and Fitness suite, a new 25m competition swimming pool, modern changing village, Motiv8 studio and new spectator gallery will be delivered as part of a multi-million-pound investment by Cannock Chase Council.

Partnership for success

In February we entered a new exciting partnership with WLCT, a charitable trust, to deliver leisure and culture facilities in Cannock Chase.

As you can see elsewhere on this page, a brand new Profiles Health and Fitness suite opened at Chase Leisure Centre in February, the first instalment of a £2 million investment programme that will be delivered over the 10-year contract with WLCT.

As well as the fitness suite at Chase and a brand new artificial pitch at Rugeley Leisure Centre, plans are firmly in place for an extension of the fitness suite at Rugeley too, as well as a number of other improvements over the next few years across our leisure and culture services.

We're committed to delivering the best leisure and culture facilities for the people of Cannock Chase in partnership with WLCT. The partnership has enabled us to save money for Council Tax payers, as well as to deliver the very best facilities for you over the next decade.

Nothing artificial about providing the very best facilities

Work on a new state-of-the-art all-weather pitch at Rugeley Leisure Centre got under way recently and it should be ready for some action by the middle of July.

The £100,000 investment in the state-of-the-art artificial turf pitch is the second major capital investment in leisure services in Cannock Chase since an exciting partnership with WLCT came into force earlier this year.

The brand new pitch replaces an existing one which closed due to its deteriorated condition.

The new pitch will be accessible to help local schools deliver their sporting curriculum, as well as being available for the local community. Mini and junior league football teams will also use the new surface at weekends, as well as lots of other sports.

As well as the new pitch at Rugeley Leisure Centre, a brand new artificial pitch will also be open soon at Cardinal Griffin RC High School in Cannock. We teamed up with the school and the Staffordshire FA to secure Football Foundation funding to deliver the first full-size artificial pitch for Cannock Chase. It will be used by students from across the District and will also be available for sports clubs and the wider community.

Disbelief as tribute flag taken

THIEVES stole a flag which had been hoisted in Cannock to mark last Saturday's national Armed Forces Day.

The flag was raised on Cannock Council's civic building in Becroft Road on June 25 by 26-year-old Sapper Clive Smith from Hednesford, who lost both legs in a blast in Afghanistan.

It was stolen by thieves who broke into the grounds of the Civic Centre either late on Thursday or in the early hours of Friday. They had to get through a locked metal casing to access the hoist mechanism.

Disappointed

Crime and partnerships leader Councillor Mike Holder, said: "The flag is Cannock Chase's contribution to Armed Forces Day and is a tribute to all members of our armed forces community past and present."

"We're extremely disappointed that the flag's been stolen and urge anyone with any information to report it to the police. I cannot believe that someone would stoop so low."

Anyone with any information should call Staffordshire Police on 101 or Crimestoppers - anonymously and in confidence - on 0800 555111.

Tank star of open garden

A SECOND World War tank called Freddie will be the star attraction at a charity garden event in Rugeley.

Deb and Tony Zazulak are throwing opening their garden to the public at Stonehouse Barn, Penkridge Bank Road, Slitting Mill, on Saturday, July 7 from noon to 5pm.

It is the third year they have organised the event in aid of Help for Heroes.

Admission is £2 per person and 50p for parking. Raffle or tombola prizes can be donated by contacting Deb on 07760 195492 or Tony on 07889 434660.

Boss put to test

WALSALL FC manager Dean Smith will be guest of honour at St Luke's Church summer fete on Saturday, July 14 from 10.30am to 3pm. Rev Peter Hart is an ex-club captain and may challenge Dean to test their shooting skills on the penalty shoot-out. There will be more than 30 stalls and supporting attractions.

Hairdressing student turns on style to win award

NHF president Keith Broughton, Sarah Moore and Lee Stafford

A HAIRDRESSING student proved a cut above the rest when she picked up a top award.

Sarah Moore, aged 22, from Burntwood, won the Junior Hairdresser of the Year award title at the National Hairdressing Federation Central England Awards at Villa Park, Birmingham.

Currently in her first year of a two-year NVQ Diploma in Hairdressing, Sarah attends South Staffordshire College's Cannock Campus one day a week, while working at the Anthony John Salons in Swinfen, Lichfield. She said: "I am overwhelmed at winning this award."

"It was an honour to meet such inspirational people at the awards and I will treasure the evening for a lifetime."

The annual awards are an opportunity to reward and recognise outstanding individuals who are all voted for by their clients.

The event was compered by broadcaster Phil Upton, while former Men's British Hairdresser of the Year Lee Stafford presented the gongs. Stafford picked up the title in 1998 and has appeared in television series Celebrity Scissorhands where he trained celebrities such as Tamara Beckwith to cut hair.

He is engaged to I'm A Celebrity star Jessica-Jane Clement.

Colin Gardner, Central England NHF area secretary, said "We are delighted with the response to this year's awards."

"All awards are nominated by clients and voted for by the public, which makes winning one of these a very high accolade."

Unsightly radio mast to go in revamp of police station

CANNOCK Police Station is to be given a revamp including reinforced doors and a new roof. The Wolverhampton Road's unsightly radio mast will also be removed.

The plans have been lodged to Cannock Chase District Council by Staffordshire Police, which said the changes would make the site more secure and attractive.

Golf club venue for pageant qualifier

BUDDING beauty queens will converge on a golf club near Rugeley later this month in a qualifier for Miss Earth.

The Midlands entrants will take part in both a live fashion show-style competition and a tree planting ceremony at Hawkesyard Estate and Golf Club on July 19. The hopefuls will also have the chance to have a tree named after them.

Miss Earth, now in its 12th year, sends out the positive message of promoting environmental awareness across the globe.

Girls aged between 18-26 years old can complete an online entry form before this Saturday (July 7) at www.missearthgirls.co.uk

A place in the national final is up for grabs at Weston-super-Mare on September 1 is up for grabs.

The national winner's prize will be an all expenses paid trip to compete against 100 countries in the televised world final.

Force spokesman Liz McGinn said there was no issue surrounding the current security of the station but the building needed a general upgrade.

"It's just that some of the doors are old and need replacing," she said.

"We don't anticipate there will be any disruption and it will remain open throughout."

The radio mast is 31ft tall and is visible from the town centre. It has long been branded an eyesore.

Angela Grove, senior planning officer at the district council, said: "Removal of the roof-top radio mast will be a benefit and no adverse impact on the conservation area is anticipated from the other proposed alterations."

Effective

Staffordshire Police said it also wanted to remove some of the original asbestos roofing.

The planning report reads: "The proposed works and operations are required to enable a more effective and efficient use of the building whilst strengthening and enhancing its appearance within the street scene."

"The roof is currently in poor condition. At present there are several rooflights. However a number of these are deteriorating and becoming defunct."

There are no plans to change access to the site from Queen Street."

Reward for helping to keep charity afloat

Representatives from Pye Green Valley Primary School with Workington lifeboats coxswain John Stobbert

A CHASE school has been rewarded for its efforts towards the Royal National Lifeboat Institution.

The hard work and long-service of more than 30 RNLI volunteers from across the north of England was celebrated during a ceremony at York racecourse. The annual north region presentation saw 39 of the charity's fundraisers, supporters and operational volunteers receive awards at a Jubilee themed ceremony.

Pye Green Valley Primary School, in Rose Hill, Hednesford, won the RNLI Youth Engagement award.

Pupils from the school have visited

RNLI Blackpool Lifeboat station for each of the last three years and on each occasion have presented a cheque to lifeboats visits officer Brenda Warburton. The total handed over amounts to more than £1,300.

Fantastic

The youngsters also carry out projects on the sea, the coastline and the work of the RNLI and use the online resources to help them find out more.

Louise Barth, RNLI fundraising and communications area manager, said the annual awards were a way thanking volunteers who had worked tirelessly for many years to support and vital raise funds for the RNLI.

She added: "Volunteers are the life-force of the RNLI and our annual awards ceremony is a great opportunity to demonstrate the fantastic work of those people who help keep our charity afloat."

"The courage and commitment of the RNLI's lifeboatmen and women is renowned but we must never forget that our crews could not perform their lifesaving role without the dedication of a large band of volunteer fundraisers and supporters who are often hard at work behind the scenes."

Walk on Chase by ramble group

A 19-MILE circular walk from Castle Ring to Milford takes place this weekend. The Chase & District Ramblers are going on the walk on Sunday (July 8), meeting at Castle Ring car park for a prompt 8.30am start.

Participants can also join the walk at Marquis Drive at 10am.

The ramblers will follow the walk with a four-and-a-half mile trek at Cannock Wood and Gentleshaw on Wednesday, July 11. Departure time is 7.30pm from Castle Ring.

Smoking in bed leads to flat fire

A WOMAN smoking in bed caused a fire in a first floor flat in Norton Canes.

Two crews from Cannock and one from Chase Terrace were called to Yew Tree Close at 10.40pm on Tuesday (June 26).

A mother and her daughter were suffering from smoke inhalation and were treated on scene before being taken to hospital.

Firefighters wearing breathing apparatus used one hose reel jet to extinguish the fire. They left the scene at 11.45pm.

Mother pens story of baby's survival battle

A MOTHER from Hednesford who kept a journal about her premature baby daughter's battle for survival has turned her experience into a book.

Becky Meechan hopes her words in My Bubble Wrap Girl: Sofia's Story will help to raise awareness of premature births.

The 38-year-old gave birth at 24 weeks to Sofia Vercesi in February 2009. The baby weighed just 1lb 8oz.

Sofia was born at New Cross Hospital in Wolverhampton, but was not expected to live. Among the many complications the infant suffered were oxygen starvation, a bleed on the brain and heart problems which required major surgery at Birmingham Children's Hospital.

She spent a total of four months in hospital, during which Becky kept a journal.

It also led to struggles of her own for Becky. Because of Sofia's premature arrival, Becky had to give up her £27,000-a-year job as a forensic scientist through ill health.

That in turn led to her losing her house and having to declare herself bankrupt.

Her relationship with partner Steve was also tested to the limit due because of the pressures they were under and eventually, just after Christmas 2010, she suffered a breakdown, which she attributed, in part, to a lack of support given to parents in her situation.

Becky Meechan who has written a book about her daughter Sofia's birth

Becky, of Mary Street, Hednesford, is much stronger today but us still receiving counselling. She said: "I'm not sure what I expected when I began keeping my journal."

Trauma

"For over two years I was unable to pick it up, I couldn't face reliving the trauma of it."

"I couldn't even watch documentaries to do with premature babies on telly and I still find it hard now. The beeps of a life support machine send a shiver down my spine."

She added: "I want to encourage the medical community to provide the emotional support that is so desperately needed for a parent facing the potential death of their precious child."

Becky has signed a contract with an American company which requires her to sell the first 100 books and has so far found 67 buyers. To buy it online visit: http://sbpra.com/rebecca_meechan/

Teatime fundraiser

Residents Annie Hipkiss, 82, and Pat Greene, 70, enjoy the Big Cuppa event at Longford Court, Cannock

CARE home residents in Cannock brewed up a fundraising idea for charity. Longford Court, in Bideford Way, hosted a Big Cuppa event to raise cash for Katharine House Hospice. Debbie Adams, a residential liaison co-ordinator at the home, said: "There was a tombola and raffle, cakes, tea and coffee, and all of the money will go to Katharine House."

"We had a really good morning, and we had some ladies come in to the communal area, who don't often get out much."

The day was one of many events being organised by Katharine House Hospice, which has asked people to host Big Cuppa tea parties across the region.

Community fundraiser Amy Johnson said: "This year we have a lot to celebrate and what better way to toast a great British summer than with a good old fashioned cuppa?"

Helmet call after child riders hurt in accidents

CYCLISTS are being urged to always wear a helmet after two schoolchildren were seriously injured in falls from their bikes.

Eight-year-old Bradley Smith was left fighting for his life after coming off his bike in Rugeley. He is now recovering at home. And, last week, a 14-year-old schoolboy suffered broken bones after being hit by a car in Penkridge.

The teenage boy was airlifted to hospital following the accident in Wolverhampton Road on June 26.

Ambulance service spokesman John Hawker said: "The boy had suffered serious leg and suspected pelvic injuries. He also suffered a minor head injury."

"Considering the damage to the car and bike, the boy was lucky not to have suffered more serious or even fatal injuries."

West Midlands Ambulance Service medical director Dr Andy Carson said: "What is concerning about this case was the fact that the teenager was not wearing a cycle helmet. Wearing a helmet significantly reduces the extent of injury due to impacts to the head."

"It provides some protection for your face, head, and brain in case you come off."

Bradley Smith is now recovering at home in Rugeley. After falling from his bike, he was unconscious for more than 24 hours.

Mother Angela Vernon said: "What I would say is that anyone out on a bike, please wear a helmet. Bradley took his off for a second."

Danger of becoming a nation of anorexics

I HAVE seen a story that seems to have been highlighted over the past few months, obesity in children.

A girl has been told her BMI indicates she is overweight and received a letter from someone in the NHS with nothing better to do.

I am in my 50s and all through my life my body has changed. When I was young I was slim, then when I reached my teen was bigger built and played rugby. Once I left school for the next 10 years I was 5ft 8 and weighed in at 10st and did not put on or lose a pound. I could run 13 miles a day six days a week. Because of ill health I reached 17st but now I am down to 15st 8.

The NHS should realise all they are doing is scare-mongering, which could cause children to stop eating and turn into a generation of anorexics.

Mother grateful for school support

MY son Samuel attends Chase Terrace Technology College and is in Year 11 and about to sit his GCSEs.

In July 2009, while on holiday in France, he suffered an horrific accident on his bike, skidding on loose gravel, flying over the handlebars, crashing into a tree and finally landing in a ditch.

Sam suffered a broken back, a pneumothorax and a deep laceration to his skull. After spending three weeks in two hospitals in France he was flown to the specialist spinal unit in Oswestry. He spent 12 weeks in rehabilitation and finally returned home that November.

Sam returned to school, which at the time was Queen Elizabeth Mercian School in Tamworth. Certain adjustments had to be made but things did not go as well as we hoped. Sam had missed 16 weeks of the academic year and he had fallen behind with his studies but was refused permission to repeat Year 10. We set about finding him a school to accommodate his needs.

Chase Terrace welcomed him with open arms and have been nothing short of magnificent in their ongoing care and support. I would really like to express our sincere gratitude to the staff.

Concern over future of the library service

I WRITE with some concern about future of Cannock Library. Councillor Corfield says the library service is safe in Cannock and in the same breath tells us that it will only move if a better and bigger premises can be found.

Surely that depends on where and what size the alternative building will be. That does not sound very safe to me and it certainly does not guarantee the current building's safety. It is more than rumoured that it is destined for inclusion at South Staffordshire College, Cannock. I fail to see how we will end up with more space than at the current location and I can see the library being subsumed into the activities of the college very quickly to the detriment of the service we currently have to the public now.

We are told the only reason for moving the service is to improve it. However some of the reasons for its success are related to its location and size. I wonder whether its location and the money the county council could get from the sale of the building is the real reason for these proposed changes?

A&E should be safe

ON the closure of A&E at Stafford Hospital, borough council leader Mike Heenan said it would be 'unacceptable if overnight closures were extended again'. To my mind, had the Borough Council Health Scrutiny Committee performed its function correctly, it may have at least had an early warning system and possibly saved lives. Had such a warning been given and heeded, some unnecessary deaths could have been prevented, along with the unfortunately necessary closure of A&E, which must be safe for patients.

Shock at parking fee rises

I WAS shocked to read in The Chronicle on June 14 about the unprecedented and unwarranted rise in car parking charges.

Hard-working traders are fighting to keep our towns alive and will surely be feeling the effects of fewer people in town centres as they are driven to out-of-town supermarkets with free parking.

Council leader George Adamson clearly has no respect for our traders, residents or the continued vitality of our local economy.

He shrugs off the rise by telling us how grateful we should be that Labour didn't put up Council Tax this year.

I wonder if he's set his sights on charging for parking in Hednesford next, just when the town is starting its long overdue regeneration?

We don't want or need these increases or those promised on street parking – they will simply continue to kill off our town centres and cripple its traders.

"HORACE"
Hednesford

It's not fair for all in this Big Society

THE Big Society; Fairness for ALL, but NOT with Council leader George Adamson. The coalition freezes Council Tax so he increases car parking fees and plans to charge for on-street parking, hitting the motorist/shopper. NOT FAIR.

The coalition view subsidised housing only for those on low incomes and the needy, but not with Councillor Adamson. A home for life, regardless of income, despite housing shortages. NOT FAIR.

Cannock people need their town, shops, and supermarkets, more housing and job opportunities, well policed parks and recreation areas. We do not need parking wardens.

Cannock people should say: Adamson; you're NOT FAIR; Adamson YOU'RE FIRED.

Isle is sinking under multi-coloured tide

WHAT on earth does Peter Rhodes think can be achieved by welcoming yet more immigrants into our beleaguered country? We have enough thank you. More than enough. This England, this sceptre isle, is sinking into the silver sea under the weight of the multi-coloured tide of people of the world.

We do understand the natural urge of people to seek a better life, but do we wish to see our national identity disappear completely? English people's wishes are irrelevant to any UK Government. Who can understand any Governments wishes to destroy our heritage?

Supermarket in pledge to give posts to jobless

THREE hundred new jobs will be created at a new Tesco in Hednesford – with up to 100 going to long-term unemployed people in the area.

The store is being built as part of the town's £50m transformation – and work is forging ahead on the 85,000 sq ft building.

It is hoped work will be complete by the end of this year.

The supermarket is being built on stilts with car parking spaces provided below. Developers St Modwen say they have made swift progress and are on track to finish the store ready for Christmas trading.

Kiosk

A 640-space car park, a row of non-food shops, a community hall and shopping kiosk, all served by new bus stops, will also be built.

The shops scheme is the second and final stage in the regeneration project which has already delivered four retail units facing Rugeley Road at Chase Gateway. A community hall to replace the Aquarius ballroom will be completed later this year.

Between 80 and 100 Tesco positions will be given to residents who have been out of work for a long time.

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson said it was a major boost for the community. He said:

"When Tesco first applied for planning

The frame of the new Tesco store is erected in Hednesford

How the new Victoria Shopping Park in Hednesford will look when completed permission, I asked that part of the conditions were that they provided jobs for local people.

"They then made a promise to employ local people who had been long-term unemployed and provide training. This is really great news for Hednesford and Cannock."

In total, around 600 jobs will be created in the regeneration of Hednesford. The transformation covers two sites that link the high street in the town and includes a bingo hall, food store, retail units, a drill hall and community centre.

Seven new shops at the Chase Gateway on Market Street are also due to be completed this month, making way for the construction of the new Victoria Shopping Park.

Labourer who lived life as a hermit on the Chase

MEMORY Lane this week takes a look back at the life of a labourer who chose to live the life of a hermit on Cannock Chase.

by Ken Edwards

Dick Slee was employed by Lord Anson on the Shugborough estate in the middle of the 18th century.

Some say he was a Cannock lad who hid himself away after being jilted by his cousin. All accounts point to him opting to live in a 'cave' after having his heart broken.

The word cave is used loosely, however, as his dwelling was actually a turf hut at Sherbrook Valley.

Just below Dick's chosen site was a small spring. Every day he carried a few bricks to the site and then built the hut on the brick foundations.

He planted a small garden and a few trees, the villagers sent their children with small gifts of food and he settled into his new way of life. The location of Dick's cave is still shown clearly on Ordnance Survey maps, although nowadays there is little to see beyond a slight hollow in the ground.

Dick was often seen to roam around the Chase wearing a long brown coat which reached down below his knees and he would sit for hours outside his hut. He became known as the Hermit of the Woods.

He made a pet of a hare, which became very tame and remained with Dick near his hut. Bess became Dick's soulmate on daily walks over heathland around Haywood Warren and beyond, and she would lie at his feet while he sat for hours in reverie at his hut door.

Sadly, Bess met a sticky end, the victim of a hunting accident. Lord Anson instructed his huntsmen not to allow the hounds to chase Dick's hare and to keep them away from his hut, but one day a mistake was made and Bess was killed.

Miserable

Once more Dick's heart was broken. "She was my sole companion and my silent friend," he once wrote before the parish authorities moved him to the workhouse at Rugeley where he died 'in miserable melancholy'.

After Dick moved to the Workhouse his hut was vandalised and only a few bricks remained to mark the spot where he lived.

Records show a man named Richard Sleight was buried at St Augustine's Church on April 6 1797.

Speaker stands the heat with bras donation

CHASE TERRACE LADIES

IRONBRIDGE, Bridgnorth and Much Wenlock were on the itinerary for a visit and despite a wet start, the ladies all had a great day out.

All three places were very interesting and did you know that it's possible to purchase a pork pie wedding cake at Eley's at Ironbridge? Bridgnorth had beautiful views, especially from the Cliff Railway. Much Wenlock can boast being famous for the rebirth of the Olympic Games and has a wonderful Priory.

An amusing evening followed, thanks to speaker Cas Bailey, an ex-police Inspector who talked about some of her experiences in the force. Her talk was called 'If you can't stand the heat, get out of the kit-chen!' - nothing to do with cooking.

Cas joined the police in 1974 and stayed for 32 years. She said not all of her male colleagues accepted her. When she started her training she was the only female with 22 male cadets.

She was the only woman working at her station for a while until a colleague called Marilyn joined. She was picked on mercilessly by the men and was often in tears.

When she complained to the Chief Inspector she was told: "If you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen", hence the title of the talk.

Wendy won the raffle.

Soroptimists Lynn Tuckley and Janis Lomas with bras they have collected CANNOCK Soroptimists have been collecting bras in support of Oxfam's Big Bra Hunt. The campaign aims to collect a million bras in the UK, many of which will be sent to Senegal.

The donated bras are either sold in Oxfam's UK shops, or sent to Wastesaver, their recycling facility in Huddersfield. From Wastesaver, bras are sent to Senegal, along with things like summerwear and baby clothes. Once there, they are sorted, repaired if necessary and sold at Frip

Glasses raised to Queen

THE June meeting was a celebration of the Queen's Jubilee with members joining in the spirit.

Members provided an excellent buffet and the meal began with glasses raised to the Queen.

planned the entertainment, which began with an ingenious game of WI bingo.

With a musical accompaniment, the ladies all joined in with some well-remembered "oldies" and lots of reminiscences. Future events include a picnic on the Chase, a walk around Castle Ring and lunch, and a skittles night at the Hen House.

Hayes Green celebrates its 25th anniversary on November 14 with a meal at the Turf Lodge.

Power firm cuts costs thanks to solar panels

A POWER firm is cutting its costs by reaping the rewards of installing renewable energy technologies.

Npower, based on the Burntwood Business Park, has saved more than £1,500 on its energy bills as well as significantly reducing its carbon emissions. It installed 54 solar panels 18 months ago onto the south-facing roof of the building. The system generates 11 Kwh of electricity and offsets more than six tonnes of carbon each year.

Helen Booker, solar expert for npower, said: "The office is perfectly suited to solar panels, as it has a large south-facing roof which is not shadowed by larger buildings nearby. Also, because it is in constant use throughout the day, all the electricity generated can be used onsite."

Holiday memories

Front-of-house assistant Laura Graham pieces the puzzle together at the nostalgic holiday camp exhibition

A NOSTALGIC look at holidays from years gone by is being held at the Museum of Cannock Chase. Throughout the summer, visitors to attraction in Valley Road, Hednesford, will be able to share their happy memories of the British holiday camp.

The exhibition, called Morning Campers!, is running until August 12 and is a light-hearted look at holiday camps familiar to generations of stay-at-home holidaymakers.

In their heyday from the 1930s to the 1960s, holiday camps such as Butlins and Pontins were favourite family holiday destinations.

The exhibition also features a fascinating range of advertising, postcards, photographs and souvenirs from across the years.

Visitors can have a go at games based on holiday camp favourites and enter the 'design your own postcard' competition. The museum is open daily from 11am to 5pm and admission is free.

Cash for historic building repairs

FUNDING OF £100,000 has been made available in Rugeley to spruce up historic commercial buildings.

Business owners in the town centre, Talbot Street/Lichfield Street and the Trent and Mersey Canal conservation areas have been urged to apply.

Cannock Chase Council is running the scheme alongside English Heritage.

Funding of £100,000 was allocated last year and a further £100,000 will be available until March next year. It is hoped more cash may be available for 2013/14.

Grants of 50 per cent could be available towards repairs and 65 per cent towards architectural reinstatement. Eligible works include repairs to roofs, roof features and external walls, replacement of lost or damaged architectural features, historic shop-front repairs or improvements and window repairs to upper floors.

The scheme cannot fund work which has already started, minor repairs and maintenance, substitute materials or conversions.

Councillor Diane Todd, Cannock Chase Council's town centre regeneration portfolio holder, said: "Rugeley is a wonderful town and the funding is designed to help preserve and enhance its character and appearance."

For more details on whether a project is eligible, call the council's planning policy team on 01543 462621.

Free acting workshops

A FREE six-week acting and drama workshop is on offer to youngsters in Cannock during the summer break. The sessions, hosted by Class Act Drama, will be offered by professional actors and directors. Each candidate will be entitled to nine hours worth of technique and acting training. Places are subject to availability and cannot be offered to existing or former members. For further details and to apply for a place contact Marian on 0121-244-3214 or email classact-drama@aol.com for an application form.

Number of complaints to health trust sees fall

A pressing engagement

Lisa Wassell, Sue Minton and Lisa Mousley from Superior Ironing at the County Showground in Stafford next Tuesday (July 10). THREE colleagues from a Cannock ironing service are putting their best foot forward for Race for Life. The trio of Superior Ironing employees hope to raise hundreds of pounds for Cancer Research UK when they take part in Race for Life.

THE number of complaints made against the trust running Stafford and Cannock hospitals has dropped by 20 per cent.

Mid-Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust received 492 complaints for the year 2011/12. There were 611 the previous year. Between January and March this year, 118 complaints were made about medical care provided by the trust.

Trust chief executive Lyn Hill-Tout said: "This is down to a number of things including better triaging of complaints and the fact that the public inquiry stopped sitting during the year," she said.

"In addition, we are seeing increasing amounts of positive feedback which reflects improvements in our services."

Identify

"Complaints increased between 2009/10 and 2010/11 – again probably partly attributable to the independent and public inquiries. Yes, this is a big decrease."

Complaints at the trust are broken down into departments and wards as well as themes.

Bosses say this allows them to monitor and identify where there may be repeat concerns which need further attention. Although hospital managers have said there are no plans to break down further the way complaints are compiled, they did promise they would look at compiling information so people could understand it better.

Prisoner on run arrested

AN escaped prisoner has been arrested in Cannock. David Blood, aged 46, from Tamworth, was captured in Norton Canes on Monday. He had absconded from HMP Sudbury, Derbyshire, on April 8. Blood has been charged with escaping lawful custody and was appearing before magistrates in Derby yesterday (Wednesday).

Safety changes at depot after pensioner's death

Gala day is just grand

Councillors Geoff Martin and Mick Grocott, gala queen Briana De Luca Bossa, aged 12, princess Denver Bradburn, seven, and Flint the dog

ALMOST £1,000 was raised at a charity gala at a Rugeley social club.

A dog show, stalls, a bouncy castle and a tug-of-war were among the attractions at Lea Hall Social Club, in Sandy Lane on Sunday.

It was organised by Armitage Shanks workers Ruth Lewis and Pauline Roberts to raise money for Swan Pit animal rescue in Gnosall near Satford and Help for Heroes.

A gala queen and princess were crowned with 12-year-old Briana De Luca Bossa named as queen and Denver Bradburn, aged seven, as princess.

CANNOCK bus station is to undergo a £50,000 overhaul following the death of a pensioner who was struck by a coach.

Ann Draper, aged 74, was left with broken ribs and a fractured shoulder following the accident at Cannock bus station in July 2010. She died in hospital three weeks later.

Coroner Andrew Haigh criticised safety standards at the depot, off Stafford Road. A sum of £50,000 has now been approved for changes to the depot to prevent similar tragedies taking place. Rugeley bus station will undergo similar improvements.

Councillor Dianne Todd says the full plans have not been finalised but there will be a new pathway around the perimeter and refurbished crossing paths.

Day trip

She said: "It's still early days but we want to implement the plans as soon as possible." Mrs Draper, who was blind and receiving kidney dialysis, was being pushed in a wheelchair by her 76-year-old husband Ray at the time of the accident. The couple were due to go on a day trip to Weston-super-Mare but were hit by a reversing coach.

Driver Gary Morgan was unable to park where he wanted because of parked cars and a minibus and said he had needed to move the bus to allow Mrs Draper to get on to the vehicle from a higher part of the kerb. They walked between the Shire Travel coach and a minibus and as Mr Morgan turned his vehicle, the rear end clipped them.

Four held in police probe

FOUR men were arrested on suspicion of going equipped for theft after their car was stopped by police near the Co-Op petrol station on the A449, Wolverhampton Road, Penkridge at 1.30am on Monday. A 26-year-old and 21-year-old from Halesowen along with men aged 25 and 35 from Kidderminster were held.

Solar Panels – Beat the August 1st deadline to secure 21p Feed-In-Tariff rate

The Government have extended their changes to the Feed In Tariff (FIT) scheme which means that home owners wanting to install PV solar systems and secure the full 21p/kWh, need to act now before rates drop to 16p/kWh on the 1st August 2012!

Fletchers arrow in on 50 golden years

Kenneth and Maureen Fletcher celebrate 50 years

A GOLDEN couple from Cannock whose eyes met during a night out in Wolverhampton are celebrating 50 years of happy marriage.

Kenneth and Maureen Fletcher, of Stoneyfields Close, Cannock, met during that night out in 1960 and it was love at first sight for Mrs Fletcher.

They married two years later on June 23, 1963.

Mrs Fletcher, now 69, said: "The first time I saw him I liked Ken, but it took me a while to get him. I think it was about three months." The couple have three children, Paul, aged 48, Steven, 44 and Christopher, 36. They also have 11 grandchildren.

The couple on their wedding day in 1962

The couple said they are both proud to still be in love. "We have had our ups and downs, but we both think it's quite an achievement," added Mrs Fletcher.

They have lived in Cannock for the last five years, but previously lived in Great Wyrley, Cheslyn Hay, Bilston and have spent time living in Mablethorpe, in Lincolnshire.

Rates drop to boost trade

TRADERS have welcomed plans to reduce business rates across the district. They say the move will help fill up empty shops.

New traders who move into Cannock, Rugeley and Hednesford will benefit from a cheaper business rate in a bid to tackle the high number of vacant retail units.

Money for the business rate reduction has been set aside from the £100,000 Mary Portas High Street Innovation Fund, while the rest is coming from the Town Centre Improvement Fund.

Around £132,000 will be spent sprucing up Cannock and Hednesford town centres.

A further £68,000 has been earmarked for a structure commemorate the town's mining past.

Dowdy

In Cannock the number of empty units has more than doubled from 18 to 42 in three years.

District Council leader George Adamson said: "There's no doubt the town centre looks dowdy and needs sprucing up. This will give it a welcome boost."

Isabella Payne, who manages Tenants Craft Bakery in Market Hall, Cannock town centre, welcomed the revamp and reduced rates.

She said: "I welcome the fact that something is being done and the reduced business rates could help tackle the number of empty shops."

"But more needs to be done. Tenants who are already here need to be given help and things such as car parking need to be looked at."

Andrew and Judith Bywater with the Morris Minor converted into a hearse

Here's to a classic send-off

A HUSBAND and wife team have come up with a novel way for relatives of car enthusiasts to say goodbye to their loved ones.

Cannock couple Andrew and Judith Bywater have converted a Morris Minor Traveller into a hearse to offer a fitting final journey for fans of the iconic British motor.

The Morris Minor Hearse Company was set up by the couple at the end of last year after they restored the Traveller so it could carry a coffin.

Calling their car Trudy – as its customary for Morris Minors to be given a female name – it took Andrew two-and-a-half years to complete her transformation ready for their launch at last year's NEC Classic Car show.

The idea started after they restored another Morris Minor and started using it for weddings in 2000 – and it became so popular they restored another one so it could carry the bridesmaids too.

But with Judith, 47, working as an organist at Stafford Crematorium, they began to see they could diversify. She said: "About three years ago we bought the other car as we wanted to make our business more diverse."

Feelings

"I went over the idea with people I knew and asked them their feelings about it and they gave us plenty of support."

"Often people have great interest in classic cars and so for them to then have their final journey in one can be something relatives like the idea of as it suits their personality."

So far the couple have done 214 weddings and one funeral – but have had a lot of interest since they launched last year. Andrew, aged 53, said: "The funeral we did was in Streetly and we got some excellent feedback about it as his family said he loved Morris Minors but had never owned a Traveller."

"So they were very happy with how we could help."

Andrew has been a Morris Minor enthusiast since 1993 when he began re-storing one.

Trudy was built and registered in 1965 and she was supplied by Colmore Depot, based at West Bromwich. But she gradually became run-down through daily use, until Andrew bought her as a complete wreck in 2009.

The couple drive the vehicle for a funeral up to 60 miles from Cannock and the coffin fits neatly beside the driver in the passenger side.

Flaming good turnout for village carnival

Jack Malpass, aged four, Ben Malpass 12 and Elliot Kelsey, 12 from Great Wyrley on the Cresta Run karts RECORD crowds descended on the annual Great Wyrley carnival last weekend.

Organisers capitalised on the passing of the Olympic Torch to make it one of the most successful event yet.

Thousands watched the parade of brightly coloured floats as it passed down the A34 through the village.

The annual celebration was specially planned for the same day as the Torch relay and organisers believe this boosted attendance at the carnival even further.

Trimmings

Around 5,000 people flock to the event every year. A parade of floats followed on from Saturday's Olympic torch relay, before ending up at the council-owned Star Field, off Walsall Road.

There, visitors enjoyed rides, stalls and all the traditional carnival trimmings.

Councillor Kath Perry, from the organising committee, said it was a

Grease is the word for this float on the Great Wyrley Carnival procession record turnout. "So many people came out to watch the Olympic Torch - it was a very memorable day," she said.

"A lot of people, including many people who wouldn't normally come to the village but came because of the Torch, then stayed for the carnival too.

"We normally get a very good turnout but this was even better.

"The whole day was exceptional and people were so enthusiastic," she said.

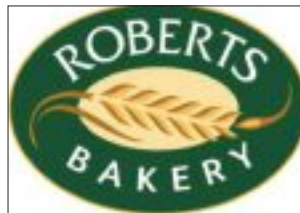

Attractions included a dog show, up to 60 stalls and a Great Wyrley's Got Talent show.

Family business has made a crust for past 125 years

THE YEAR 2012 is one of Great British celebrations – the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, the London Olympics and the 250th anniversary of the sandwich.

What could be more British than celebrating with a street party, a big pot of tea and a spread of sandwiches cut into nice little triangles?

Some 125 years ago, back in 1887, it was also a year of celebration as the country marked Queen Victoria's Golden Jubilee. It was also the year that master baker Robert Roberts baked and sold the first loaves of bread from his small corner shop in Northwich, Cheshire. Maybe some of those loaves were even turned into sandwiches to mark Queen Victoria's jubilee?

A lot has changed down the years but the Roberts family is still baking great quality bread in Northwich, only now on a scale that Robert could only have dreamed.

Tradition

From those humble beginnings to becoming the UK's fastest growing major bread brand, Roberts Bakery now proudly celebrates its 125th anniversary. Still family owned, Roberts Bakery sells more than 1.5 million loaves a week across the country.

The skilled tradition of breadmaking has been passed down through four generations of the Roberts family, who all have a genuine passion for the business and its bread. Lindsay Ocleston Roberts, great grand-daughter of Robert Roberts believes that strong family values have made the bakery what it is today.

"Our success and heritage isn't just about the Roberts family," she says. "It's also about the dozens, even hundreds of dedicated families that have worked here over the years.

"We have multiple generations of many families in the business and a huge number of people with incredibly long service. We're immensely proud to have been here for 125 years and to still be wholly independent and family owned," she adds.

Back in 1887 the loaves were delivered by horse and cart – strapped on to the roof (without any packaging!) and taken door to door each day. Food hygiene and delivery methods have changed a lot but freshness is just as important to the family.

The bakery runs 24 hours a day, 364 days a year –

More than a million and a half Roberts loaves are sold every week

Back in 1887, Roberts' loaves were delivered by horse and cart working throughout the night to bake the freshest possible loaves.

And it's not just the Roberts' loaves that people are so fond of; the iconic windows at the front of the bakery have become a bit of a famous local landmark too. Sitting at the side of a busy dual carriageway junction, the huge bakery windows allow passers-by to watch up to 8,000 loaves of bread going round at a time, whilst savouring the irresistible smell of freshly baked bread.

Vouchers

To commemorate its 125 year anniversary, Roberts has unveiled its fantastic 'Summer of Fun' on pack promotion, which has 125 top prizes up for grabs as well as thousands of money off and free loaf vouchers.

There's the chance to win a top prize of a beach club family holiday, plus lots of great family days out to theme parks and more. Winning tickets will be inside Roberts packs and on Facebook throughout the summer.

Floods cause havoc to businesses and drivers

Water pours down the A51 Brereton Road, Rugeley, after the downpour Clean-up operation at the Crown, Rugeley

SHOPS were hit by loss of power as the Chase felt the effects of last week's flash floods.

Some buildings even saw partial roof collapses as a result of Thursday's deluge. A number of roads were also blocked and Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service was bombarded with more than 170 flood-related emergency calls.

The amount that fell in the three-hour spell was almost half of the total rainfall expected for June.

Staff battled to keep water out of their stores in Rugeley as the rain fell just after 10am, turning the high street into a fast-flowing river. Around a quarter of the shops in Upper Brook

Street and Lower Brook Street were forced to close while the Argos store in Pointland Park, Wellington Drive, also shut when part of the roof collapsed.

In Hednesford, the heavy rain meant around 850 students at Kingsmead Technology College in Kings Avenue were sent home early.

Avalanche

A popular tea room on Cannock Chase was hit for the third time in six years. Kay Le Page, owner of Spring Slade Lodge, on Camp Road, was about to open at 10am just after the rain started when she saw an avalanche of water surging towards them.

She said: "The carpet has got to be replaced but in the meantime we've had it cleaned and we're desperately trying to get it dry."

The sudden downpour also inspired spontaneous acts of kindness.

In Great Wyrley, practice manager Pauline Scott and colleague Tracy Kenny were returning from a meeting when their car cut out in thigh-high floodwater on the Cannock Road at 11.30am. The women were helped by Leighton Rees on his way home to Churchbridge, Cannock, after a shift at the Orbital branch of Sainsbury's.

He pushed them to safety and jump-started the car. Pauline, who works at a GP practice in Rugeley, said: "We were stranded. But Leighton was fantastic."

"The rain was torrential, he got absolutely drenched. He'd got his wife and small baby in the car but he still stopped to help."

Turtles Nursery children and the Marshbrook reception class greeting the caterpillars which they will all watch closely for changes

The children enjoy many different arts and crafts

Nursery which strives to make each child welcome

TURTLES Nursery, in Wolverhampton Road, Penkridge, rated Outstanding by Ofsted, also provides a pre-school nursery at Marshbrook First School, which also received "outstanding" for its early years provision in December 2012.

The nursery unit works in conjunction with the school to ensure that children are easily integrated into reception when the time arrives.

Children enjoy spending time with the reception class sharing appropriate projects such as recycling and litter picking, school assemblies, summer fair, jubilee celebrations and sports days.

The children particularly like the adventure playground and garden and the story time with Miss Gould, the much loved reception teacher.

The nursery has fully trained staff, led by the manager Alexis. The staff lead the children through the Government's Early Years Foundation Stage Framework – which is mandatory for all early years providers including schools and private nursery providers – with an enriched programme including "hands on" activities, such as studying the "life cycle of a butterfly" with real caterpillars and tadpoles.

Trips are an important part of the curriculum and these have included the Monkey and Forest and strawberry picking.

The unit is fully inclusive and the nursery actively strives to make every child and adult welcome. Turtles offers 15 hours of free nursery time, for children aged three and above, which can be used to suit your requirements for your child.

The nursery is open from 8am until 6pm. Parents are welcome to purchase wrap around care if they require more than the 15 hour free sessions.

The nursery is registered for 24 children morning and afternoon and allows great flexibility to fit around the needs of your family.

If your child is not yet old enough to attend the Marshbrook pre-school unit, nursery, children can be accommodated at the Wolverhampton Road nursery.

There, they would get to know the youngsters at Marshbrook as it ensures that strong links are maintained with the school.

Maintained

The staff would be delighted to welcome you to the nursery to meet the staff and see the facilities and activities that the children enjoy.

Why not come along to the Marshbrook School summer fete on Friday, July 13 and meet the staff?

An excellent magician has been booked to entertain the children, and he will be performing his magic show at 5pm.

Places at the nursery have been booked by parents for September and the following years. Anyone interested in a place is asked to contact the nursery for details. Telephone 07870781628 or 01785 716111.

Staff look forward to seeing you and your child very soon.

Chase to stay in public hands, vows minister

THE Government says Cannock Chase will not be sold off to private investors after vowing: "our forests will stay in public hands".

Environment Secretary Caroline Spelman made the pledge after an expert panel called for around 640,000 acres of woodland to remain in public ownership.

Proposals to privatise the forest estate managed by the Forestry Commission – which makes up 18 per cent of England's woodland and includes the 3,000-acre Chase – provoked public outcry when they were announced last year.

The outcry led to plans being dropped 21 days after they were unveiled, with the Independent Panel on Forestry set up in the aftermath of the saga to advise ministers on forestry policy in England.

The panel this week said the estate should remain in ownership as land held in trust for the nation.

And Ms Spelman moved quickly to insist she would back the recommendation. It means the Chase, which attracts a million and a half people a year, will continue to be managed by the Forestry Commission.

Mark Davis, who heads local campaign group Save Cannock Chase, welcomed the independent panel's findings. He said: "It's obviously a very detailed report and I am glad they have taken a good solid look at it."

"What does concern me is how the recommendations will affect the current running of the Forestry Commission. I would say it is a cautious welcome."

Rescue team hones skills

MEMBERS of the Staffordshire Search and Rescue Team honed their skills with a training day on Cannock Chase.

During the morning session, 14 of the 18-strong group completed the British Heart Foundation's 'Heart Start' course, which also proved to be a good refresher for those already qualified.

During the afternoon the team covered practical skills, ending up on Cannock Chase with stretchers, practising steep access rope work.

The team will be carrying out similar training days on a quarterly basis.

Restaurant chef serves up treat for Commons people

AN Indian restaurant in Cannock came fifth out of the entire UK in the final of a cookery contest held at the House of Commons.

The Dilshad, in Cannock Road, Chasmoor, had already won the West Midlands heat of the Tiffin Cup and represented the region in the grand final. It was nominated by Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley.

The Dilshad, home to the UK's hottest curry, had already beaten off 89 other rivals to represent the West Midlands and lined up against 12 other restaurants in the grand final at Bellamy's restaurant in parliament.

Celebrity chef Ainsley Harriott headed the panel of judges.

Chef Piara Miah cooked a special Bangla Chicken dish, a medium heat roasted chicken marinated with a variety of herbs and spices and served with vegetables and cottage cheese. The Dilshad was awarded 10 out of 10 in the taste category – the highest mark of the night. The two other categories were preparation and presentation.

Charity

The competition not only celebrated the diversity of South Asian food in the UK but also raised money for the World Vision, this year's chosen charity of the Tiffin Club.

Dilshad owner Tony Uddin said he was very proud of his staff including young chef Piara Miah who was chosen to cook on the night.

"We came top in the category for taste out of all of the restaurants which was a remarkable achievement and fifth overall. We represented the West Midlands and I think we did the region proud."

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley, chef Ainsley Harriott and Dilshad owner Tony Uddin

Memories of park sought

RESIDENTS in Hednesford are being asked to help secure £2m of funding to transform the town's park.

People are being invited to share memories and stories of the park as Cannock Chase District Council is submitting a bid in August for £2m of Heritage Lottery Fund and Big Lottery Fund cash to fund major improvements to the park and war memorial.

If the bid is successful the plan would result in new play facilities, restored railings, gates and pillars and improved access.

As part of the bid, memories and stories are needed from local people about the history of the park.

No butts – smokers are warned in council blitz

SMOKERS who throw cigarette butts on the ground in Cannock Chase are being hit with £75 fines. The district council said it was getting tough on smokers.

The authority said it was prepared to pursue non-payment of the penalties through the courts.

Officers will also be stepping up their patrols across the area.

Some 80 per cent of fines handed out in the district for litter offences in the past two months have involved the discarding of cigarette ends.

In April and May, officers dished out 35 on-the-spot notices, with 28 of them involving spent cigarettes.

Impact

Environment chief Councillor Janos Toth said: "Many smokers think that cigarette ends are not really litter and can be discarded anywhere they please.

"The truth is that they take up to two years to biodegrade, not to mention the impact that this littering has on our town centres."

He added: "A discarded cigarette end is litter and smokers need to take responsibility for their waste – they should stub it out and put in any litter bin or take it home in a small tin or cigarette pouch and dispose of it properly when they get home."

The council is renewing efforts to reduce the blight of litter. All students aged 11 to 17 have had a presentation from council staff on the impact of it.

New signs and posters have also been erected in prominent public places.

A fixed penalty notice for littering is £75, reduced to £50 if paid within 10 days. Failure to pay will result in a prosecution at magistrates court. The maximum fine is £2,500.

Keeping rabbits at bay

Roger Phillips, Brad Parkes, Sue Coleman and Seb with the scarecrow at Chase Aqua Rural Enterprise

PUPILS have created a 6ft scarecrow to keep rabbits from eating fruit and vegetables at a farming project near Rugeley.

Chase Aqua Rural Enterprise, which offers things such as wellbeing walks, animal therapy and healthy eating projects, has been losing its crop of lettuces and strawberries from its base at Bishton Lane, Wolsley Bridge. The scarecrow was designed by pupils at Great Wyrley Performing Arts High School and was put up by volunteers.

The company is appealing for more volunteers to lend a hand. Call 07772273083.

Marketing firm's new staff

THREE new members of staff have been taken on by a Rugeley-based marketing specialist. The appointments take the number of employees at MMS to 14.

Jenny Holden and Rachael Chew have joined the PR team, while Samantha Bird is the new advertising and marketing account manager. Director Danielle Mitton said: "Since the business was founded we have always striven to maintain a steady and sustainable growth."

Social club may close over noise complaints

HUNDREDS of regulars are in danger of losing a social club that has been part of their community for more than half a century – because of complaints from one neighbour.

Darren Mapp, who built a house next door to Chase Social Workers Club in Cannock two years ago, says noise levels on Saturday nights are excessive.

However, his complaints have been dismissed by local sub-postmaster Peter Kinsella, who said: "It's like building a house next to a fish and chip shop and complaining about the smell."

A petition of more than 300 names has been handed to the council in support of the club.

The authority issued a legal notice in December banning the club from playing music beyond 11pm.

Decline

The venue in Pye Green Road says it is dependent on the weekend music nights to raise funds to repay £80,000 debts and to stem a decline in membership.

Licensing chiefs at Cannock Chase will decide in September whether to take away the licence following Mr Mapp's complaints.

by Marion Brennan

He said the music was so loud he could make out the words of the songs.

Bosses carried out some insulation work on problem windows and under the stage but with little effect. They now have to raise £4,000 to soundproof the whole building.

Mr Mapp first complained in July 2010 and, after visits from noise pollution officers, it was concluded that the sound "significantly" affected the property.

One resident supporting the club is Jim Mellor, aged 66, of Tower Road.

He said: "There has never been any trouble and it is a friendly club."

"It is a part of life for some people and it would be devastating if it was to close," he added.

Tribute by friends

Yannick Nancarrow, Jamie Castledine and Brodie Holland with a picture of Thomas Knight

THREE Burntwood teenagers are leading an inspiring fundraising campaign to raise £1,600 in memory of their friend who died in a car accident.

Thomas Knight was just 11 when he was killed in Stables Way in 2008. He would have been 16 this year. Three of the Fulfen primary School pupil's best friends – Yannick Nancarrow, Jamie Castledine and Brodie Holland, all aged 15 – have undertaken the fundraising challenge.

They have arranged a football tournament next Saturday (July 14), to be refereed by former Premiership official Alan Wiley, and a disco on September 21 at St Matthews Sports & Social Club.

Brodie's mum Michaela Holland said the three boys, who all attend Erasmus Darwin Academy, were doing Thomas proud. Visit www.justgiving.com/brodieholland to donate.

Man dies on golf course

A MAN died after suffering a heart attack on a golf course in Rugeley. A bystander tried to revive the man after he collapsed on the course at Lakeside Golf Club. Paramedics were called at 1.25pm on Saturday.

Carole's artwork full of woodland charm

Carole Baker and Bob Russon who held an exhibition of their work at The Corridor Gallery, Lichfield Guildhall

POPULAR Chase Terrace artist Carole Baker has showed off her latest work at an exhibition in Lichfield.

The Woodland Charm exhibition was inspired by studies made on Cannock Chase and Gentleshaw Common.

It was jointly held with fellow artist Bob Russon, who displayed paintings alongside Carole's at the Corridor Gallery at Lichfield Guildhall, in Bore Street. Carole said: "The exhibition did really well and we were pleased with how it went."

Carole, who specialises in acrylics, mixed media and watercolour runs painting workshops throughout the year. Visit www.carolebaker.com for details of her work.

Phone mast plan lodged

PLANS for a new 49ft mobile phone mast on the doorstep to Cannock Chase have been submitted.

Vodafone and Telefonica, who provide mobile phone network coverage for O2, want to erect the mast on Rugeley Road, Hednesford, which leads onto Cannock Chase.

The mobile phone giants say the mast is necessary to improve the 3G coverage for thousands of mobile phone users across the region.

The applicants say they explored several options for where the mast could go, before plumping for Rugeley Road, south of the junction with Victoria Street.

Appropriate

The plans have been lodged with Cannock Chase District Council.

The statement sent to planning chiefs says: "The area has been visited several times to try and find the most appropriate site for an installation of this nature."

Hednesford businesswoman and councillor Linda Whitehouse says an alternative site should be sought as the planned location was too prominent.

She said: "I think it's too much of a prominent area, and does sound quite high so I think will have quite a visual impact on the area."

CD REVIEWS

Cheryl on light track

Cheryl - A Million Lights
THE Girls Aloud singer turned super-celeb doesn't need a surname anymore, like Madonna or Beyonce or a superstar footballer.

On her third album she doesn't push her vocals, keeping them midrange on a series of similar dancefloor orientated pop numbers with just the merest hint of trendy dubstep and a bigger dose of urban/R&B. It's all in the Rihanna, Madonna, Britney ballpark. Screw You is bound to excite speculation (hmm, who's that about?) whilst Sexy Den A Mutha is catchy enough to deliver her a big hit.

Cheryl is in concert at Birmingham LG Arena on October 12.

Linkin Park - Living Things

IT'S a balancing act for these Californian rockers on their fifth studio album, keeping the fans from the raw rap-rocking days alongside their less pierced and less hirsute new following who probably listen to Coldplay and Kasabian too.

The result is an album with plenty of muscle, an excellent vocal performance by Chester Bennington and several anthemic rockers, especially the outstanding Burn It Down. It would have been even better with a little more anger, a bit more edge.

Flo Rida - Wild Ones

THE American rapper has gained the Midas touch with his blend of catchy pop and dance tunes, so much so that this set sounds like a greatest hits package in waiting.

The urban sounds are

Cheryl back with a new album and a Birmingham gig derivative but deliver hooks aplenty and driving beats, enhanced by a judicious use of samples from soul greats such as Freddie King and Etta James.

Good Feeling and Wild Ones, the latter a vehicle for the vocal talent of Sia, have already been international hits and the double entendre filled Whistle will make it three this summer.

The more laid back Let It Roll and In My Mind Part 2 (featuring an excellent guest vocal from Georgi Kay) are less frenetic. Sweet Spot will get plenty of attention thanks to a guest vocal from Jennifer Lopez and could that be Flo Rida (AKA Tramar Dillard) showing a sensitive side on I Cry?

It's a bit cheeky referring to a ninth track as a bonus but it's a good one, Flo Rida, Audra Mae and Redfoo from LMFAO turning Bryan Adams' Run To You into a dance anthem called Run.

Maroon 5 - Overexposed

AN ironic title for the Los Angeles group's fourth studio album, seeing as Moves Like Jagger has become one of the best-selling singles of all time and frontman Adam Levine a star judge on the US version of The Voice.

They started as a rock band but have become steadily poppier until they now make bright and brash ear candy achieved by collaborating with the folks who work with Britney Spears, Katy Perry and Beyonce. Hence certain hits like Payphone (with rapper Wiz Kalifa) and Lucky Strike.

Levine's 'ey-oh' vocals recall the 80s, in fact opener One More Night could have come from The Police or Men At Work back catalogue. But on the catchy Ladykiller he's more in a Michael Jackson mode. It's interesting how the sunny style of the songs often contrasts with bitter lyrics. Sounds like Adam wants to get even with some ladies.

And for those new to the band, the record company has tacked on a faithful version of Moves Like Jagger done in the studio for The Voice US and again featuring Christina Aguilera.

Sigur Ros - Valtari

ONE part Elbow to nine parts Pink Floyd, then chill to below zero, that's the recipe for Sigur Ros - Icelandic creators of hazy, elegant mood music. On Valtari they take their symphonic sound to spiritual levels, way beyond the reach of most rock bands. This is especially apparent with the choral harmonies of what, in the absence of Icelandic letters on my keyboard, I shall have to refer to as track five.

This music has a slow bleak beauty which makes the fact that the lyrics are sung in Icelandic irrelevant.

You don't so much listen to Valtari as dissolve into it.

Trust now named as a charity

A FUNDRAISER from Hednesford has managed to achieve charity status.

John Hibbs set up The Hibbs Lupus Trust last year to raise awareness of an incurable illness of the immune system.

The trust chairman said he was now "delighted" to have achieved his goal.

The Hibbs Lupus Trust was also named by Sainsbury's as its charity partner for the year.

Mr Hibbs, aged 33, said: "I'm delighted that the Charity Commission has approved the Hibbs Lupus Trust as a fully registered charity."

Mr Hibbs has been the driving force behind setting up the Hibbs Lupus Trust after his sister Viki, 29, was diagnosed with the condition in 2008.

And he said he hoped the partnership with the Orbital Way supermarket would raise awareness about the work the trust does.

Boss Smith has grounds for optimism

Children look on as Walsall manager Dean Smith opens the pitch with freestyler Colin Nell, headteacher Michael Burrowes and Councillor Christine Mitchell

A NEW £800,000 artificial sports pitch that will be used by thousands of people across Staffordshire has officially opened.

Walsall FC boss Dean Smith officially opened the facility at Cardinal Griffin RC High School, off Stafford Road.

It will be named the Liam Keeling Arena after a 13-year-old year-eight pupil who died in 2009 from meningococcal meningitis. He was a talented player with Wyrley Juniors, a feeder club to Walsall.

Boots

It is Cannock's first full-size artificial grass pitch and will be used for football and hockey.

After the Saddlers gaffer did the honours last Sunday (July 1), a host of former footballers were pulling on their boots again for a charity match. These included former Nottingham Forest player Des Lyttle, ex-Wolves midfielder Andy Thompson and Darren Simkin, who played for Wolves and Hednesford.

Freestyler Colin Nell also showed off his skills.

Saddlers boss Dean Smith signs an autograph for Jim Burrowes

The new pitch has been created following a joint project between the school and Cannock Chase Council and has been funded by the Football Foundation.

It will be open for community use on evenings and weekends. Other schools will be able to use the pitch during the day.

Riders in classic on the Chase

MOUNTAIN biking makes a welcome return to Cannock Chase this weekend.

The Cannock Chase Summer Classic is organised by Run & Ride Events and is being held at the Tackeroo campsite on Sunday (July 8).

It will feature some of the best mountain bikers from the UK plus first time racers pitting their wits on a specially designed course. Trade stands, fresh home-made snacks, a 'real' coffee cart and a massage service are all available.

Matt Williams from Run & Ride said: "We're delighted the Forestry Commission has allowed us to put this event on."

Entry is available on the day. Racing starts at 9.15am through 4pm.

Further information is at www.cannockchasesummerclassic.co.uk

There will be a small parking and camping fee with proceeds being donated to the Hibbs Lupus Trust.

thechronicleTown's big store hopes

NATIONAL chains have snapped up 70 per cent of stores at Hednesford town centre's £50m new shopping development.

Developer St Modwen, which revealed pre-tax profits for the first half of the year was £24.9 million, said work was also gathering pace on the second phase of Hednesford Gateway, the Victoria Shopping Park.

It hopes to have shops, including the 85,000 sq ft Tesco superstore which is creating 300 jobs, open in time for Christmas.

The first phase, called Chase Gateway, at the Rugeley Road end of the town centre, has seen four retail units completed.

St Modwen said profit before tax for the half year was £34.9 million. Chief executive Bill Oliver said the firm's year had started well.

White Hart date for the Bad Rats

IRISH influenced band The Bad Rats will be playing at The White Hart pub in Wolverhampton Road, Cannock on Saturday night (July 7).

Support will come from Jimmy And The Houndogs who will start the show off at 9pm. Admission is free.

Oldest fire brigade snap is handed over to station

ONE of the earliest known images of Cannock Fire Brigade has been presented to staff at the town's community station.

During a tour by the Probud Club to the Community Fire Station in Hednesford Road, local historian Mike Hewitt described how a fire in Cannock on April 26 1890 put pressure on The Local Board, now the district council, to form a Cannock and Hednesford Fire Brigade.

The fire took place at an 18th century building called Finney House, on the site where Yorkshire Bank stands today. As no Fire Brigade existed in Cannock, calls went out from the telegraph office to The Wolverhampton and Walsall Brigades. By the time they arrived the building was completely destroyed.

Agreed

Following calls from residents, the Local Board met on the May 3 1890 and agreed to purchase a second hand manual engine from Stafford. This is shown in the photograph. In the winter of 1890 The Cannock & Hednesford Fire Brigade was formed and eight volunteer firemen were named.

For Cannock, these were: Captain Stokes, Lieutenant Harvey and Firemen Yard and Kent. For Hednesford they were Captain Arnott, Lieutenant Ormson and Firemen Wallbanks and Rambourne.

To show their appreciation to Blue Watch for their hospitality the Probud Club presented the photograph, which can be seen on display at the station.

In it, the fireman standing in centre of the fire engine is Captain Kent. He was a founder member of the Brigade. His dress helmet is also on show at Cannock Community Fire Station.

Crew manager Sarah Smith, Probud Club chairman Chris Gooch and firefighter Graham Degg

NEVER UNDER ESTIMATE THE POWER OF SMALL

Classified adverts might be small, but they pack a big punch. For as little as £25 per week, you can promote your business to the largest audience in the Midlands. That's a staggering 850,000 local people each week. Give us a call – we think you'll be knocked out by the impact.

Top property guide for Cannock, Penkridge, Heath Hayes, Rugeley, Hednesford, Great Wyrley, Burntwood and more

Homes designed with modern living in mind

OOZING charm and character on the outside, new Redrow homes in Great Wyrley are practical, stylish and full of family-friendly features inside.

Designed with modern living in mind, the traditional looking homes at Oakwood Grange boast many of the features people look for when choosing a new home including ample storage space, somewhere to keep the washing machine and open plan layouts.

The style and convenience of the properties can be appreciated with a visit to the show homes.

Pauline Turnbull, sales director for Redrow Homes (Midlands), explains: "A recent survey carried out for the Royal Institute of British Architects echoes our own research, which helped shape our popular New Heritage Collection. We both found that homebuyers are influenced by the homes they lived in previously and want a home which has 'period' features, but is practical too. Our homes already offer many of the things that the RIBA report says people want and need from their home.

"For example, the report says people want a large main living area for eating, entertaining and relaxing and the open plan design of our homes means our customers can do just that.

"Another must-have is space for essential household items and our homes include a laundry or utility room to keep the washer and dryer out of the kitchen, as well as providing additional cupboard space."

New Redrow homes boast kitchens that are stylish, practical and well-equipped. Integrated top brand name appliances such as oven, fridge freezer and microwave are included as standard, while tall cabinets and extra wide drawers offer plenty of storage.

Bathrooms and en suites enjoy quality fixtures and fittings, with an exclusive tile range. Current availability at Oakwood Grange includes a choice of four-bedroom homes, priced from £199,995.

Some of the homes, including Shrewsbury, Stratford and Oxford designs, are almost ready to move into, making them the ideal choice for those who want a quick move.

For those who don't have a sizeable cash deposit or with limited equity in the property they're selling, the homes are available with the Government-backed NewBuy initiative, which means they can be bought with a 95 per cent mortgage.

Or those with an existing property still to sell may be able to use it as part payment for a new Redrow home via part exchange.

Located in Walsall Road, close to Cannock town centre, Oakwood Grange enjoys easy access to the M6, A5 and A34.

To experience all that a brand new Redrow home has to offer, visit the show homes at Oakwood Grange, open daily from 10am to 5.30pm.

Peugeot pull off the near impossible with their classy 208

PEUGEOT must be haunted by a car it hasn't sold for decades and is now rare as hens' teeth, with most of the five million made long banished to the scrapheap.

The car was the modest hatchback 205 and it proved one of those machines that get under your skin because they look good and are simply lovely to drive.

The 206 and 207 that came after showed the 205 had been a hard act to follow and, although they sold in shed loads, never managed to make owners love them.

Their successor, the 208 reviewed here, is tasked with banishing the 205's ghost and must be the most eagerly anticipated new Peugeot in years.

To live up to its high expectations the new baby has to pull off a dazzling trick: be as well equipped and well built as the best of current little hatchbacks (think Polo and Fiesta), yet as light and nimble on its feet as that original 205 from 1983.

Even small cars have to ooze class today and the 208 does, with expensive looking soft surfaces and, in most cars, a touch screen that will (later this year and for a subscription) tell you everything from the weather to the nearest car park. Satellite navigation is a modest £400 addition.

But the biggest pointer to Peugeot's determination to make the 208 a game changer comes when you break out the tape measure and scales. For the car is smaller on the outside, yet bigger inside than the 207 it replaces and, crucially, lighter too.

Beneficial

Averaged across the range, it's like heaving the weight of two grown men out of the car, with obvious beneficial effects on everything from performance and economy to (let's hope) the way the car tackles corners and bumps.

The five-door test car, in midrange Active trim, costs £12,795 and includes as standard manual air conditioning, alloy wheels and the multifunction touch screen. Prices of the new range start at £9,995 and extend to £18,495, although not many at either extreme are likely to hit the showroom.

Under the newly shortened bonnet sit a range of already familiar petrol and diesel engines and a couple of petrol powered units we have not seen before. They have a mere three cylinders and are likely to prove the most popular engines, in either 1.0 or 1.2 litre form.

Three-cylinders for economy is becoming familiar territory among car makers the world over and in the 208 produces an engine that feels happy to rev, with an engaging thrum and still showed 50mpg after a frustratingly constrained test drive of mainly stop/start city work and confined country lanes.

The 81bhp 1.2 litre in the test car will pull the 208 to 109mph and scores a impressive, if unrealistic 62.8mpg in the official consumption test. You'll pay no road tax the first year and a miserly £20 thereafter. And now to the controversial part of the 208's design, which Peugeot admits is a love-or-hate feature (most people like it, we're told), in the nicely sculpted shape of the smallest steering wheel this side of a single seater racing car.

The Peugeot 208 is smaller on the outside and bigger inside than the 207

It's so tiny you look over it, not through, to read the instruments and for the first few miles it feels extremely odd.

Some of the 208's nimble feel comes from suspension firm enough to jar when the car hits a patch of badly mended road and I'd have gladly traded a little cornering ability for a touch more comfort. That niggle apart, the 208 is Peugeot's most impressive effort for years.

Beat any hose-pipe ban with fine shine

AFTER the threat of hose-pipe bans car owners have been looking for a solution to expensive car washes – one that's fast, environmentally friendly, can be used at home and pertinently, one that requires no water.

Showroom Shine from Greased Lightning offers superior cleaning without the fuss of a bucket and sponge, saving time, water and money.

In recent months, due to necessity, drivers on the look out for innovative methods for keeping their car spotless have discovered the future of car cleaning, and it's one that requires no water and takes just half the time.

With Showroom Shine, it doesn't matter how dirty your car is.

Simply spray on the formula and wipe straight off, leaving a dazzling shine and perfect scratch free finish every time. Great for you, your car and the environment.

Mazda unveils special edition of Kuro model

On the market next week – Mazda's new MX-5 Kuro in Velocity Red Mica and Crystal White Pearlescent

MAZDA has unveiled a new Special Edition of the MX-5 sports car, the Kuro, which is on sale now.

The Kuro focuses on sports styling and acknowledging the firm's growing involvement in motorsport – from its MX-5 GT4 contesting the 2012 British GT Championship, to the recently announced SKYACTIV diesel racing engine programme and the new MX-5 GT Concept road-legal track-day car.

The name Kuro, meaning Black in Japanese, is echoed in the sporty, dark accents of this latest pair of Special Edition models. A Brilliant Black roof and door mirrors and dark gunmetal 17-inch alloy wheels, contrast dramatically with the three exterior colours – Velocity Red Mica, Crystal White Pearlescent and Brilliant Black.

Graphics

Based on the MX-5 SE and Sport Tech models, the Kuro will be available as a 1.8i soft-top and a 2.0i roadster coupe with additional specification highlights over the donor car that includes: a diffuser-style rear sports bumper, larger diameter sports exhaust, unique race car inspired exterior graphics, black detailing around the grille and front fog lights, plus unique 'Kuro Edition' badging.

Inside, MX-5 Kuro has unique stone and black heated leather seats, stone leather door inserts, with contrasting red stitching, a silver interior deco panel with red accents, alloy pedals, premium floor mats with race inspired logo and climate control air-con.

Available until 31 July with 0 per cent APR finance over 36 months (50 per cent deposit) or 5.9 per cent APR, the MX-5 1.8i Kuro soft-top is priced at £18,495 and the MX-5 2.0i Kuro roadster coupe costs £21,995 (OTR). A genuine special edition, only 200 examples of the soft-top and 400 of the roadster coupe will be available in the UK.

The roadster has a host of goodies including radar-guided cruise control

The new Mercedes-Benz SL 63 AMG – a thing of beauty at around £100,000

Mercedes powers you along in luxury

I DARE say that we all like the idea of owning a performance car – or at least a car with a little performance. Imagine being able to despatch a slow-moving caravan without having to wait for two miles of clear and straight road.

But the flip side of proper performance can make a car a nightmare to live with: stiff ride, noise and a general lack of refinement are the classic issues. That's not something your average Mercedes-Benz customer is going to put up with, which is why the AMG version of its luxurious SL roadster has a difficult brief to achieve.

It needs to look fabulous, drive and ride with all the comfort of the standard SLs but at the same time have blistering performance and be a total hoot to drive hard. An SL AMG owner wouldn't accept anything less.

The first nod to this dual-purpose role is the engine. The badge might say '63', but underneath that long bonnet is a twin-turbocharged 5.5-litre V8 already appearing in the higher end AMG models.

If you're familiar with the naturally aspirated 6.3-litre unit though, I don't blame you for being disappointed – that engine is an absolute delight.

But it only took about two miles for all doubts to be dispelled. For starters, you'd never know it was turbocharged judging by the riotous noise it makes.

Performance

Normally turbo engines have less of the beautiful exhaust noise, something the 6.3 was known for. But when you tread firmly on the accelerator, it sings and pops and snarls; not too much of course, this is still a Mercedes-Benz.

It has 530bhp, which is a lot, as well as 590lb.ft of torque. If you are some sort of megalomaniac and that's not enough, you can plump for the AMG Performance Package, which bumps this up to 556bhp and 664lb.ft of torque. That also gets you a raised electronic speed limiter, from 155mph to 180mph.

These figures don't quite illustrate just how rapidly the SL63 goes, though.

It's the torque that does it, providing instant urge right from tickover.

It punches forward from rest, the seven-speed dual-clutch transmission shifting at the red line for you unless you use the paddles to shift yourself.

But arguably more impressive is the way it continues to pile on speed relentlessly – whatever speed you start at, you can add another big chunk in a matter of seconds.

Before long, of course, you'll find yourself piling into a bend at speed, and where you might expect this unquestionably sizeable car to struggle, it somehow manages to surprise once again.

It only takes a few tight bends for you to get a sense of it feeling much smaller than it actually is; the aluminium bodyshell and suspension components that have helped to shave over 100kgs compared to the outgoing car pay dividends.

It turns in obediently, grips both at the front and rear and will power out with purpose.

Start playing with the ESP settings and you can even play the hooligan – and the SL63 is happy to play along.

And yet it never stops being a comfortable droptop grand tourer.

It's easy to dismiss the numerous settings for the suspension, gearbox, steering and engine as mere gimmickry, but the reality is you can set the car up to waft along, demanding almost nothing from you at all.

Set the radar-guided cruise control on the motorway and you can cruise for hundreds of miles, settled in the multi-adjustable comfortable seats, the audio system providing high-quality accompaniment and the noise levels impressively low.

The biggest problem with the SL63 AMG is all the decisions you'll have to make; performance pack or not, the Magic Sky roof that gives you shade or a clear view at the touch of a button, or the 'hands-free' boot system that can be opened or closed with a kick under the rear bumper.

You'll want to take a little time with the colour and wheel combinations, too; in solid red the SL can look a little chunky, yet in the matte white finish with black wheels it is classy and even a little bit sinister...

So what began as a difficult brief actually turned in to the recipe for the perfect high-performance roadster.

The SL is tremendously fast, involving and satisfying, and yet it can soothe away your troubles and despatch you to your destination with total ease.

All you need to do is pay for it.

String of medals for all ages at karate club

MEMBERS of Essington's Elite Shotokan Karate Club took a string of medals from two tournaments.

The first was at Bilston, where ESK won the award for most successful club, and the second was the Staffordshire individual championships at Cheslyn Hay.

Club medal winners were: Charlie Harris, aged six, from Great Wyrley, four gold medals: Mya Bailey, eight (Cheslyn Hay), one bronze; Josh Devey, 13 (Great Wyrley), one gold, one silver, two bronze; Jack Harris, 12 (Great Wyrley), four gold, one bronze; Nici Nixon, 14 (Great Wyrley), two bronze; Jessica McGrady, eight (Great Wyrley), one silver, one bronze; Shanice Hill, 10 (Great Wyrley), one gold.

Dave Sanders, 28 (Cannock), one silver, one bronze; Mike Carr, 25 (Cannock), three gold, one silver; Richard Hill, 26 (Great Wyrley), three gold, one bronze.

Head coach David Hill said: "This is a fantastic achievement."

"The ESK team did brilliantly at both tournaments and were competing against teams from across the UK and Ireland."

"There has been some hard work and commitment put in by all the individuals and this really showed on the day of the championships."

"I was so proud of all my competitors; they were a real pleasure to coach."

"Two years ago we joined the English Karate Federation, the official governing body, and this has improved our training methods."

Anyone interested in joining should contact Hill on 07854 908735 or via www.karateelite.co.uk

Runner-up swimmers

SEVEN Chase Swimming Club members represented Staffordshire at a three counties gala.

They were Joe Kinsell, Gabe Butler, Matthew Evans, Adam James Lamb, Ben Colclough, Georgina Legge and Lucy Nelson.

All competed at the Abbey swimming pool in Redditch and helped the county finish second.

The event proved a particular highlight for Legge as it was her first selection for the county.

Phoenix keep on rising to take fifth gala win

CANNOCK Phoenix Swimming Club have extended their rich seam of form with a fifth successive gala win.

The latest success came in the third round of the Nuneaton & District Junior Swimming League and saw Phoenix finish 73 points clear of second-placed Coalville.

Officials reckon the result indicates that the team are ready to enter the First Division next year. The final, which settles promotion issues, takes place in two months' time.

Head coach Luke Thomas said:

"The swimmers put in a faultless performance with no disqualifications to win the gala 73 points clear of the team in second place. "The club now look forward to competing in the final in September and the chance of promotion to Division One."

Joshua Veale was picked for the tri-county gala in Redditch and set a personal best of 1min 10.17sec in the 100m backstroke.

Result: Cannock Phoenix 264pts, Coalville 191, Burtwood 170, Wellington 168, Walsall 144, Tamworth 113.

Run spree assures points for home side

Cannock & Rugeley 240-7, Springvale 178-7. Draw

BIG innings from Ryan Ponder (77) and Adam Lawley (63) helped Cannock & Rugeley first to the lion's share of the points.

The visitors posted 240-7 in their Staffs Clubs Division One clash, with Iqbal Singh (3-43) and Daniel Palmer (3-51) the pick of the Springvale bowlers.

Early successes for the Cannock & Rugeley attack left Springvale 18-2 and 35-3. But Ashley Hartshorn made 53 and Michael Hunt 45 as the home team rescued a draw, closing on 178-7. Daniel Aston took 2-15.

Springvale 66-1, Cannock & Rugeley 66-1. Cannock & Rugeley won by nine wickets

Cannock & Rugeley seconds got their season back on track after a lean couple of weeks with a comprehensive victory over bottom-placed Springvale.

Stand-in captain Simon Hawkins made a good start by winning the toss and choosing to field.

A woeful batting display saw the visitors shot out for a paltry 64. The wickets were shared between Simon Cooper (2-14), Chris Saunders (2-4), Dan Jones (1-18), Jock Caan (1-11) and Shaun Aston - a stand out 4-12.

The in-form Darren Aston with 38 not out and Steve Benton (15 not out), put together an unbroken partnership of 57 to win the match after the early loss of skipper Hawkins.

Cannock & Rugeley 193-8, Springhill 141. Cannock & Rugeley won by 52 runs

The thirds also returned to winning ways against Springhill, thanks largely to outstanding all-round displays by Luke Farley and James Taylor.

The visitors batted first and made a poor start, losing both openers.

But Farley's 92 got the innings back on track before Taylor then took the long handle to the home attack with 57 as Cannock & Rugeley amassed 193-8 off their 40 overs. Although the hosts never really looked like reaching the target, Cannock & Rugeley had to work hard for their wickets on a slow pitch.

The batting heroes shared six wickets. Just as it appeared that Springhill were going to hang on for a draw, Ian Hawkins and Kesh Mistry took the last two wickets in three balls to give Cannock & Rugeley a last over win.

BURNTWOOD TOWN FC are returning to the town after a three-year absence as the club look to build for the future.

The Midland Combination Division Two side - who were first established in 1928 - will groundshare with the town's rugby club from next season.

Both will call the Sportsway home over the course of the next year and it's a welcome return for the footballers, who were based at the Red Lion Ground in Rugeley.

It's been difficult for the club since the turn of the century, due to the recession and not matching the success of other local outfits.

They really struggled last season but managed to complete the campaign and keep themselves alive - and now change is afoot.

Their season was hurt by the departure of Dave Cox last winter; in came Ian Butt to fill the void and help Mike Gentiles to help with the team.

Revenue

The rugby club have, themselves, endured a difficult summer after they were relegated on the last day of last season, dropping down from Midlands Two West North to Midlands Three West North.

The drop could hurt their revenue but having another team on board should help them stay afloat.

The town's rugby and football have united in the hope that both can benefit from their union and keep sport in the town alive.

Gentiles said: "With strong links to other local teams, Burntwood is looking to provide a stepping stone.

"We want to build a club with passion and pride that will be able to represent the town as a whole."

"With local lads playing at the highest level, they can achieve this."

"It seems to be missing from our town, with many local players having to move to get Level Seven football."

The football side is keen to stress that there's a long way to go if they are to achieve their ambitious goals of stepping up a level.

Their season starts in August and new barriers, dugout and work on the pitch all needs to be done before the big kick-off.

But the long-term goal is to get the club re-established with a central base and facilities, putting on competitive games for local people.

The club are always on the lookout for both volunteers and sponsors who are interested in buying into the vision of rebuilding the club.

Cannock not rattled by late loss of wickets

Evesham (5pts) 134, Cannock (20pts) 135-8. Cannock won by two wickets

CANNOCK firsts survived a late rattle of wickets to take a Birmingham League Division Two victory at Evesham.

The home side reached the 100 mark for the loss of four wickets, but Andy Hawkins (4-23) and Sean Collings (3-53) ran through the middle and lower order to dismiss them for 134.

They were a handful of runs away from the line when three quick wickets caused some consternation, but got over the line.

Cannock 107. Brewood 77. Cannock thirds recovered from a startling 0-3 to beat Brewood.

Aaron Wilkes and Tom Bull set about trying to rebuild and mixed careful batting coupled with the occasional big hit in putting on 65 before Wilkes was run out for 35.

Another collapse followed to see Cannock fall to 74-7, Bull dismissed for 14, and they were all out for 107 after 44 overs.

Brewood's reply was going well but Cannock took control with Bull returning figures of 3-24, Alex Beamon 3-13 and Steve Varker mopping up the tail with 3-5.

Cannock Sunday Colts 113, Fordhouses 70. Cannock won by 43 runs

Cannock maintained their title challenge with a 43-run victory at home.

Batting first, Cannock made a good start. The innings closed on 113 all out with Edwards (15) the only other batsman to reach double figures.

In reply, accurate Cannock bowling kept the run rate at little more than one run an over.

With the pressure growing, wickets began to fall. Elliott Horton (2-5) started things off before Dan Wood (4-26) and Alex Rowe (2-19) put Cannock in charge. Ollie Harris took the final wicket.

Cannock 141-5. Penkridge 119-8. Cannock won by 22 runs

Cannock hosted local rivals Penkridge in the first T20 League game of the season. Aggressive batting by Sean Collings (49) and Richie Hewitt (32) saw the home side post 141-5.

In reply Tom Chew (36) and Gary Pope (23) top scored for the visitors, but accurate bowling from Collings (2-6), Ed Fleet and Jack Twigger (2-24) resulted in a comfortable win.

Harris sets out his agenda after taking charge of the team

It wouldn't be pre-season without being run into the ground and Harris' new era with the Scholars started no differently

Chasetown open their new era with 16 signed

CHASETOWN today confirmed their initial squad for the new campaign with two signings adding to the trio of strikers that have arrived at the club for pre-season.

The Scholars returned to training this week and have registered 16 players so far with the Evo-Stik Northern Premier League, ahead of their Division One South return.

Matt Johnson, 31, has joined after a year at league rivals Market Drayton Town and previously played over 100 games at the level with Leek.

The utility man follows midfielder David Bate, who has followed Harris to the Scholars Ground after being his captain at Tipton last season.

Bate steps up a league in the process with forwards Nick Wellecome, Gary Hay and Matthew Jukes the other faces in the squad.

Harris has also confirmed eight more members of last season's squad are staying put, but Jimmy Turner's future is still up in the air.

However, captain Richard Teesdale, Chris Slater, Mark Branch, Mark Hands, Scott Lycett, Lee Wright and Anthony Maguire have all re-signed.

Goalkeepers Ryan Price, Lee Evans and Polish prospect Mariusz Kiesel - who has put pen to paper on league forms - were confirmed last week.

Former Exeter and Oxford defender Jon Richardson has also signed as a player for next season, alongside his coaching role with the club's academy.

Player of the Year Turner reported back with the squad on Sunday but has also been training with Stafford Rangers, although he hasn't committed to them.

Harris, who arrived to replace Chris Brindley as manager in May, also has a number of trialists spending pre-season with the club.

He said: "We are still having a look for players and waiting on an answer from a few, but I was pleased with the turnout.

"There's lads who we have got in and around us as well, not on trial as such but we are looking at them closely. "We want to keep them under wraps, as we have not sorted out anything out with these lads as yet."

The Scholars boss put his players through their paces again on Tuesday night and will again tonight before a second Sunday session.

The squad are back in next Tuesday and Thursday before their first pre-season friendly, at Sporting Khalsa a week on Saturday.

The double-winning reserve side have also been involved with the first-team at the start of pre-season.

Harris said: "We will have had six training sessions by the time we go to play at Sporting Khalsa and we have just started blowing the cobwebs off.

"The lads tend to report back quite fit anyway, nowadays, they look after themselves during the summer.

"I have been really pleased with them and we trained as a club in the first session, with the reserves.

"With both squads, there was over 40 players, it's a nice number and we will always warm up together."

Meanwhile, the club have announced their new season ticket prices for 2012-13 in line with their relegation from the Evo-Stik Northern Premier League.

An adult ticket to the Scholars Ground for the whole campaign is just £130, with concessions half-price at £65.

It entitles the supporter to admission to all home league matches, free admission to reserve team home matches and a 10 per cent discount in club shop.

On match-day, an adult ticket is £8, with concessions at £4. Senior citizens, students with a valid Student Union card and under-17s are £3. Children go in for £1.

Football club given life-saving equipment

A WYRLEY football club now has its own heart defibrillator.

The equipment has been purchased for Wyrley Juniors in the wake of the cardiac arrest suffered by Bolton footballer Fabrice Muamba.

Muamba, who is now recovering, collapsed during a match at Tottenham's White Hart Lane ground.

Kelchers Optometrists, based in Great Wyrley, have donated the £1,000 defibrillator to the club.

It will be housed in the clubhouse in Long Lane, Essington.

Wyrley Juniors have more than 600 young people as playing members and are the current National FA Community Club of the Year.

Club chairman Keith Hardy said: "We are extremely grateful to Kelchers. While we hope never to have to use the equipment, knowing that it is available to potentially save a life gives us comfort."

Graham Kelcher said: "We are delighted to support a local club as we see ourselves as part of the community."

Yelloly has second win of season

RACING driver Nick Yelloly stormed to his second win of the 2012 Formula Renault 3.5 season in treacherous racing conditions at the Nurburgring in Germany.

Starting 14th, Stafford-born Yelloly mastered the wet track and poor visibility and fought his way to a dominant win to finish 27 seconds clear of his nearest rival.

Race two was a different matter, Yelloly picking up seven places on the first lap. Heavy rain brought out the safety car and the field were split between staying out on slick tyres or pitting for slicks.

Yelloly stayed out and then had to spend several laps busily defending his position against those who had put on wets.

He dropped to ninth, but then started to make up ground and eventually lay second, reeling in leader Marco Sorensen.

Quick laps and a good pit stop for wets saw Yelloly take the lead and pull clear.

Winner James Whitehouse
with Roger Black MBE

James cuts a Dash to take win in thriller

RUNNER James Whitehouse chimed in with victory in the Florette Lichfield Dash.

The Birchfield Harrier clocked 58.2 seconds – starting and finishing just within the cathedral's midday chimes on Saturday.

Roger Black MBE gave Whitehouse the new winner's trophy, commissioned by Lichfield cutlery firm Arthur Price Ltd.

Ashley Wickett of Cannock & Stafford AC was second in 60.02sec, followed by Andis Grindals from Latvia with Ellie Howat, also of Birchfield Harriers, fourth.

The Olympic Torch passed through the city on the same day, prompting a record Cathedral Close crowd for the Dash.

Kevin Wilson, of event organiser KP Events, said it had been an "extra special" day.

Black said: "The event was a fantastic example of how running can be hugely competitive and compelling for spectators at any level."

New sponsor for Walsall FC

NORTON CANES firm SR Timber Ltd are the new shirt sponsors for Walsall FC.

The firm's logo is carried on club home and away shirts.

Walsall commercial director Roy Whalley said: "To be associated with a well-established local company in this way is fantastic for us. We are proud to be carrying the SR Timber brand on our shirts."

SR Timber Ltd is part of the SM Roofing Group who have been a commercial sponsor of the Saddlers, who currently play in League One, since the early 1990s.

Managing director Shaun Revill said: "We are delighted to be able to show our support for the club in this way."

Hayes put on a four-star show and keep Waple

by Craig Birch

HEATH HAYES will host four Evo-Stik Northern Premier League sides in the space of 10 days next month with star striker Dave Waple leading the charge.

Hayes have confirmed Waple – the Golden Boot winner in the Midland Alliance with 26 goals last season – has agreed to stay for the new campaign.

And the Hayes' hot-shot will be only too keen to test himself out against the opposing defenders coming to the Coppice Colliery Ground in pre-season.

First up are Hednesford on Saturday July 14 before Chasetown – just relegated to the Evo-Stik NPL First Division South – arrive on the Tuesday night.

Next in town are Stafford Rangers on the

Thursday evening before Rushall Olympic complete the quartet the following Tuesday, on July 24.

A local derby against neighbours Brocton rounds up their home friendlies on Saturday July 28 and boss Simon Davies hopes it will raise cash.

He said: "We have been fortunate to have all of these sides come down to play us in pre-season over recent years. But we have never played all four of them in one pre-season, so we are grateful to them for that."

"Hopefully, we will get a few people through the gate and get a bit of money in the club's coffers.

"The revenue could set us up for the season, we would like to think it could get us through to Christmas."

The Hayes chief is starting his seventh season in charge and much of that time was spent with Ben Haseley leading the attack.

Haseley left to join Halesowen in January, where he has been a hit, and Waple has been told by his manager he could follow suit.

Davies said: "There's been a lot of interest in Dave, so we are quite proud that we have been able to keep him."

"Ben played for us for six years and, eventually, someone took a chance on him and he has done really well."

"We have used him as an example to other players, we might be their stepping stone to bigger and better things."

The club have also issued a plea for more volunteers to get involved with the club for the new season.

Davies said: "There's numerous things we need doing, such as maintaining the ground and helping out on match-day."

"They can also get involved on the football side, as well, such as coming along and being a kit manager."

"Another one would be to look after our website and help us to get more involved with Facebook and Twitter."

"There's lots of varied roles to suit different generations."

Games get under way to herald the torch

SPORTS are under way in south Staffordshire to celebrate the arrival of the Olympic torch.

The Torch 2012 Community Games have been organised by Ron Myatt of Great Wyrley History Society and Keith Hardy, chairman of Wyrley Juniors FC.

The tennis competition was organised by Chris and James Perrins, sports leaders at Cheslyn Hay Sport & Community High. Jon Ashby and Nick Kenneley of Wheaton Aston won the men's doubles, beating Brewood's Karl Spencer and Brian Summit 6-1 in the final.

Lorraine Kidd and Jo Morgan of Pittingham took the women's doubles with a 6-3 win over Cath Davies and Lucy Dolman of Cheslyn Hay. Morgan combined with Sean Yates to win the mixed doubles.

Dominos winner was Stan Williams (Great Wyrley). In football, Wyrley Juniors FC beat Penkridge FC 2-1 in the final. The tug-of-war at Cheslyn Hay recreational ground was won by The Minerva (Easington) over The Stumble Inn (Bridgton).

More details on forthcoming events are available from Keith Hardy on 07836 202764.

SMITH EXPECTS 12 RIVALS FOR TITLE

HEDNESFORD manager Rob Smith today predicted as many as 13 teams could be crowned champions of the Evo-Stik Northern Premier League next season.

The Pitmen boss reckons his side and half of the division stand a chance of finishing in top spot and going up automatically to the Blue Square North.

Smith's men briefly flirted with the title last season.

by Craig Birch

They were level on points with champions Chester after beating them in January, before falling away.

A play-off semi-final defeat to Bradford Park Avenue put paid to their dreams of promotion in the end-of-season lottery for a third straight year.

But Smith believes first place is there for the taking this time after Chester and Bradford PA both went up, while Northwich were demoted a division.

Promotion remains the only goal for the Pitmen but getting to April without the need for nail-biting would be a welcome relief for Smith.

He said: "Three big sides have left this division and, when you look at it, it's so hard to call and it's going to be so competitive."

"I really can't see anyone running away with the league this season, it will be tight and it should be an interesting time."

"What we try to do is improve year on year and we are aiming for the play-offs as a minimum, anything above that is a bonus."

"To try and get automatic promotion, with just the one place, is just so difficult but we will give it our best shot."

"There's probably 12 or 13 sides in with a shout of the title, I certainly wouldn't like to guess who is going to win our league."

The Keys Park boss faces up to a campaign without Larry Chambers for the first time in 12 years, after he stepped down as his assistant to concentrate on starting up a business in the motor trade.

Pitmen legend and former manager Chris Brindley has replaced him but Chambers may yet return to the club at a later date.

Smith's trusted right-hand man has played an active role in the club's six new signings this summer, Smith revealed.

He said: "Larry has been very heavily involved with all of the player negotiations so far so he's still hands in, at the moment."

"But, in terms of being back in the dugout, I would say it's certain we won't see him this side of Christmas."

The club have also announced they will be setting up an under-21 side for next season.

Michael Smyth will manage the newly-founded team, who will play on Saturday mornings at Pelsall Villa in the Northern Division of the Midland Combination Under-21 League.
